NAMES OF THE MONTH

Bring Me Answers. The Maryland-bred mare, bred by Sagamore Farm, is out of On Demand. The 7-year-old won the 10th race of her career at Laurel Park in February.

One More Chapter. Franklin "Goree" Smith's 3-year-old gelding, an Ohio-bred who won at Laurel in February, is out of Page Turner.

Helen Gibson. Love discoveries like this. The 3-year-old daughter of Daredevil and Wild Encounter, third at Laurel in February for owner Lee Christian, is named for the first American professional stunt woman and the wife of actor "Hoot" Gibson. She competed in rodeos, was a trick rider and had roles in such movies as Ranch Girls on a Rampage, A Girl of the Range, Bride of Frankenstein, Custer's Last Stand, The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance, the movie series Hazards of Helen, and plenty of others from 1912-62.

Class still in session

Mignon C. Smith visits with Class Star in 1970.

WINANTS BROS. INC.

This month's Pensioner on Parade Class Bopper represents generations of breeding by Mignon C. Smith, whose Mede Cahaba Stable and Stud was a regional fixture for years. Virginia-bred Class Bopper, a three-time stakes winner over hurdles and a four-time winner on the flat, now goes foxhunting and showing with Remy Winants (whose mother Lilith Boucher trained for Smith for years).

Now 16, the chestnut gelding is by Bop but comes from a long line of Mede Cahaba horses on both sides of his female family including:

- Dam Class Vim, a homebred who was winless in seven starts but produced winners Class Disco, Class Skip, Class Vantage, Class Vigor and Why Not Be Queen.
- Granddam Complete Vamp.
- Complete Vamp's sire Completed.
- Complete Vamp's dam Variare, a Virginia-bred purchased by Mede Cahaba from breeder Thomas Mellon Evans.
- Broodmare sire Class Secret, a son of Secretariat who lost all seven starts but stood at stud for Mede Cahaba as "sire for all reasons" with performers on the flat, over jumps and in the show ring to his credit.
- Class Secret's dam Class Wizard, a Maryland-bred daughter of *Mystic II who won twice for Smith.
- Class Wizard's dam Classicality, a foal of 1959 bred in Alabama by Mede Cahaba from *Callisto and by the sire *Sirte, both English imports.

An Alabama native, Smith was the daughter of J. Craig Smith (CEO of a major textile manufacturer in the state) and later became a radio journalist and member of the White House press corps. She was in the press room when President Richard Nixon resigned in 1974.

Smith (who died in 2012) didn't breed any national champions or Grade 1 winners, but bred Thoroughbreds for stamina, durability and jumping ability. Her horses frequently featured "Class" in their names – somewhat obviously – and she stood by her convictions as her horses found success in various disciplines.

She'd be proud of Class Bopper.

Launched: A developer bonus for Maryland-bred horses, the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association and Maryland Jockey Club, beginning in phases Jan. 22. A 15-percent bonus will be paid to the developer (the owner or owners of a horse when it makes its first start) for any Maryland-bred that finishes first, second or third in an open overnight race at a Maryland track. The developer bonus applies to a horse still owned continuously by the original owner as of Jan. 22, or the owner of a horse that makes its first career start after Jan. 22. The new bonus is not part of the purse and will not be included in a horse's earnings. The bonuses will be paid monthly once the testing of samples is completed and the races are released by the stewards. The Maryland-bred owner bonus will continue to be paid to Maryland-bred horses that finish first, second or third in an open overnight race in Maryland and will continue to be part of the purse. However, to provide a grace period for owners who own Maryland-breds but are not the developer, and for those who have recently claimed a Maryland-bred with expectation of receiving the full 30-percent bonus, all horses will continue to earn the 30-percent owner bonus through May 31 unless the horse is claimed or sold. If a horse is claimed prior to May 31, the owner bonus for the new owner will drop to 15 percent for the horse's next start. If that horse was owned by a developer at the time of the claim, the 15-percent developer bonus will begin for the horse's next start. The concept, offered by Maryland Jockey Club President Sal Sinatra, has been discussed by the MTHA Board of Directors and MJC racing officials over the last six months. It is designed to provide additional incentives for owners to support the Maryland program through the development of weanlings, yearlings and 2-year-olds, thus increasing the number of horses available to fill races.

Retired: The 2019 Maryland-bred Horse of the Year Sharing, by owners Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners and Gainesway Farm, after a paddock accident in January. The chestnut filly, who won the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf-G1 in 2019, was bred by Sagamore Farm and earned $1,092,751 thanks to a record of five wins, a second and two thirds in nine lifetime starts. In addition to the Breeders' Cup victory, she won the Selima Stakes at Laurel in 2019, and the Tepin Stakes and Edgewood Stakes-G2 in 2020. She traveled to England last June, and finished second in the Coronation Stakes-G1 at Royal Ascot. Trained by Graham Motion, who also trained the filly's Breeders' Cup-winning dam Shared Account for Sagamore, Sharing had closed 2020 with back-to-back Grade 1 starts in California—a fourth in the Matriarch and a third in the American Oaks. She was being rested for a 2021 campaign when she was injured. The daughter of Speightstown, sold by Sagamore for $350,000 at Fasig-Tipton's Saratoga yearling sale in 2018, will begin her second career as a broodmare though stallion plans had yet to be announced.

Released: A spring racing schedule—subject to change pending Covid-19 protocols—the National Steeplechase Association. A handful of meets announced can-

When it comes to the art of breeding and racing Thoroughbreds, no particular plan guarantees success, especially when dealing with thousand-pound animals with minds of their own. However, in an industry where the luck of the draw might be your only bet, the Korea Racing Authority forges on with a scientific method, exemplified by its Pegasus World Cup-G1 winner Knicks Go.

The 5-year-old Maryland-bred added a third Grade 1 to his career with a gate-to-wire score in the Pegasus at Gulfstream Park, going 1⅛ miles for the first time as he finished 2¾ lengths ahead of Jesus' Team in 1:47.89 Jan. 23. Following a victory in the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile-G1 to close his 4-year-old season, Knicks Go scored his fourth consecutive win since transferring from Ben Colebrook to trainer Brad Cox early last year.

"Winning a race like this has put Korea Racing Authority on the world map," said Jun Park, the Kentucky-based representative for the KRA. "They like to improve the breeding program in Korea all the time and globalize their racing, so this is a big achievement in the KRA's history."

As the public company that manages the entirety of South Korea's Thoroughbred industry, the KRA continuously strives to improve breeding and racing in South Korea. Founded in 1922, the entity recruits stallions to stand in South Korea, while also buying colts as potential stallion prospects and racing them in the United States to build their resumes.

The KRA purchased its first U.S. yearlings at the 2015 Keeneland September sale, with J. S. Choice (Congrats) leading the way as he went on to finish second in the 2016 Pilgrim Stakes-G3 and start in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf-G1 a month later.

The following year, the KRA purchased a 2-year-old colt by Tapizar out of the Harlan's Holiday mare Black Chocolate at the Ocala Breeders' Sales March sale for $150,000. Trained by Colebrook, Mr. Crow made nine stakes starts, five graded, over his 16-race career, as he finished second in the 2018 Vosburgh Stakes-G1 and the Aristides Stakes.

Retired last year, he was exported to South Korea to begin his stallion career for the 2020 breeding season. South Korea has three racecourses, stands 110 stallions and has an annual foal crop of more than 1,300 according to the KRA website.

"The KRA bought 15 horses over six years and two horses went to the Breeders' Cup, including Knicks Go, who won. Then [Mr. Crow] finished second in a Grade 1," said Park. "[We've had] three horses graded stakes-placed, including a Grade 1 winner, from 15 horses over six years–I think those are very good numbers."

Though many assume the Pegasus World Cup winner is named after the professional basketball team the New York Knicks, his name is technically pronounced 'K-Nicks' Go, which refers to the genetic testing program and nicking patterns the KRA uses to select their horses.

When a potential prospect is identified, Park collects hair samples and submits them to the testing company in Korea, where it takes at least three weeks to analyze the entire genome. Jin Woo Lee, a member of the KRA who invented the "K" Nicks program, oversees the genetics operation.

Bred by Sabrina Moore and her mother Angie Moore, Knicks Go sold for $40,000 as a weanling at Keeneland November in 2016 to Northface Bloodstock. Nearly a year later, the KRA brought over a crew of professionals to inspect yearlings at Keeneland September, and purchased the fourth foal out of the stakes-winning Outflanker mare Kosmo's Buddy for $87,000.

"It's not like 'OK, I decide, I pick this one,'" said Park. "There's a lot of work and a lot of people's advice [that] comes in and then a lot of [scientific] information."

Though Knicks Go scored high on the KRA's genetic test, the studies continued as he was sent to Nick de Meric Stables and Sales in Ocala, Fla., along with the four other horses the KRA had purchased at the September sale, for early training.

The KRA partnered with Dr. David Lambert of Equine Analysis Systems, a Thoroughbred performance evaluation and consultancy company based in Midway, Ky., to identify which racing prospects to keep and which to send through the ring at OBS in spring 2018.

After utilizing the FotoSelect system, which uses mathematics to derive skeletal measurements from conformation photos, and an ultrasound of the heart, Lambert's Equine Analysis team identified Knicks Go as an elite racing prospect and the KRA withdrew him from the sale, along with a Lookin At Lucky colt later named Giant K. Their 2-year-old colts by Oxbow, Colonel John and Gemologist went on to sell for a combined $202,000.

"You know everybody has to be on the same page and be right, and that's very, very difficult," said Park. "I gather all of the information and then I bring it to the KRA, and then they come up with the right decision."

Their advanced scientific analysis has certainly paid off when it comes to Knicks Go, their most successful story yet, who as a 2-year-old won the 2018 Claiborne Breeders' Futurity-G1 at 70-1 while in Colebrook's barn. He quickly followed up with a second in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile-G1 to eventual champion Game Winner.

Despite a disappointing 3-year-old season, where his best result was a second in the Ellis Park Derby from eight starts, (seven stakes), Knicks Go returned to form last year for new trainer Cox with a score in a 1 1/16 mile-allowance at Oaklawn Park in February.

Though there was talk of retirement after he was sidelined with a bone chip in a knee following his 2020 debut, a favorable prognosis and encouragement from a hopeful trainer made the KRA look ahead to the rest of the year's racing calendar.

"Brad pointed out, 'This is a nice horse, he has a lot of talent he hasn't shown yet,' and he was very confident, so we decided to give him time off and race again," said Park. "He came back at the right time. We could have run in a stakes race before the Breeders' Cup, but Brad wanted him in an easier race to see how he'd do, how he'd be and right after the allowance race in Keeneland, he said we might have to think about going to Breeders' Cup."

Knicks Go blazed through 1 1/16 miles in 1:40.79 to win a Keeneland allowance in early October, only to return a month later in the Breeders' Cup and win the Dirt Mile-G1 in 1:33.85, both track records.

"We like to make the right decision for the horse, that's the main thing. And when he won the Breeders' Cup and [he] came out of the race in good shape, Brad encouraged us that he's sound, we can race him another year," said Park. "Like the Pegasus, there are big races at the beginning of this year, so maybe we can go there. Everything's gone toward racing another year, so I think that was the right decision."

After a successful 5-furlong breeze at Fair Grounds Feb. 6, Knicks Go was aimed for the $20 million Saudi Cup at King Abdulaziz Racetrack in Saudi Arabia Feb. 20. The $12 million Dubai World Cup, March 27 at Meydan Racecourse, was also under consideration.

Park said 2021 will be Knicks Go's final year of racing before he's retired to stud duty. But as the KRA's first stakes winner and first Grade 1 winner, his success has opened the door to another first for his owner, as he'll be the first KRA-owned stallion to stand in the U.S.

"The KRA, that's their goal, they'd like to stand him here in the U.S.," said Park. "He's not going to Korea."

As of Feb. 9, Knicks Go's record of 6-3-1 from 18 career starts had earned him $3,088,995, which moved him to third on the all-time Maryland-bred earnings list behind Cigar ($9,999,815) and Awad ($3,270,818).

"It's an incredible journey we're on and I'm honored to be part of the [KRA's] team," said Park. "Hopefully [the KRA] buys some more horses [in the U.S.] and then we can have another Knicks Go in the future." ✷

Class Bopper

The Re
Rider

MAGGIE KIMMITT

“I went to ride him the other day, and when I went out to catch him, he and the other horse were rearing up, striking at one another, running around like they were yearlings. He’s 16 now, but don’t tell him that. He still thinks he is a racehorse. He’s not lacking in confidence.”

“He” is Class Bopper. She is Remy Winants, and nothing about that scene surprised her.

Winants has known the horse for most of his life. Bred in Virginia by the late Mignon C. Smith’s Mede Cahaba Stable and Stud, the chestnut gelding was sent as a yearling in 2006 to Winants’ mother, trainer Lilith Boucher. By Bop out of the Class Secret mare Class Vim, Class Bopper was started by Lilith’s husband, jockey Richard Boucher, at their farm in Camden, S.C.

Class Bopper made seven starts on the flat at 2 and 3 before Lilith sent him and another Mede Cahaba homebred, Class Real Rock, to Winants in Pennsylvania. Born in Middleburg, Va., she has spent most of her life in the Unionville area where she now works as stable manager for Mr. Stewart’s Cheshire Foxhounds.

“It was interesting because Richard was a little higher on Bopper,” Winants said, “but when I was teaching them how to jump, Real Rock was the one who stood out to me. So Richard and I had a little bet going as to who would be the 3-year-old [National Steeplechase Association] champion that year, and it ended up being Class Real Rock. But Bopper was the one who went on to be the better racehorse.”

Class Bopper’s first career win came in his first effort over jumps—a maiden special weight at Morven Park with Richard in the irons Oct. 11, 2008. Two starts later, he and Richard won the Raymond G. Woolfe Memorial 3-year-old hurdle stakes on the Colonial Cup undercard at Springdale Race Course in Camden. Still, he finished second to his stablemate in the division standings.

The Bouchers shifted their operations north each summer, escaping South Carolina’s heat. With a stable full of Virginia-breds, Lilith took full advantage of opportunities on the turf course at Colonial Downs. Class Bopper broke his flat maiden there in June 2009, then inked another win in an allowance at Laurel in August. Reunited with Richard over hurdles at Callaway Gardens in November, he won the AFLAC Supreme Hurdle Stakes. In his five races that year, four on the flat and one over jumps, he won three and finished second twice.

Sold to Boucher client Rodman Moorhead III, Class Bopper returned at age 5 in 2010 and won the Grade 3 Zeke Ferguson Memorial Hurdle at Colonial Downs while also making flat starts at Keeneland, Pimlico and Kentucky Downs. Limited by injuries, he didn’t run in 2011 and made just one start in 2012. He ran twice in 2013, winning on the flat at Colonial Downs and returned in April 2014 in the Bouchers’ Why Not Racing silks—winning a hurdle claimer that year and a flat claimer at Penn National the next year. He made his final start at Delaware Park a month later and was retired with a record of 35-9-2-2 and $226,914.

Class Bopper headed back to Camden where Winants’ younger sister, Mell Boucher, rode him for a few years.

“Mell won her first junior horse race on him at the Aiken Trials when she was 12,” Winants said. “She showed him a tiny bit, and Richard actually tried to show him, but he couldn’t remember any of the courses.”

Class Bopper’s next stop was Pennsylvania, where Winants began foxhunting him. When Lilith scaled back her Unionville-based business developing hunters, the horse relocated to the Cheshire barn. Huntsman Ivan Dowling used him for two seasons.

"Bopper was really good but pretty strong in the hunt field," Winants said. "He just never really settled into it; he'd be competitive with the whip's horse, and that's not good. Last spring they [Cheshire] made some cutbacks on the horses, and he ended up back home with us."

It was the first time in many years that Winants had a horse she could call her own. After a dramatic 110-pound weight loss, she was ready for her own project and hopeful she would regain her confidence in the tack.

"So I took him on as a show horse, and I foxhunt him and hack him out, which is sometimes probably not quite as enjoyable as it should be."

But even Winants can't deny that it's always entertaining. On a recent outing with the Elkridge-Harford Hounds in early January, she and Class Bopper were headed in the field by young rider Will Slater on his pony Chewy.

"The pony came up next to us, and Bopper slapped his ears back and was like 'It's ON!' I managed to hold him, but I could feel the gears clicking in his head. It was hysterical. All I could think was, 'Seriously, Bopper?' He goes out there and he's a lot of fun, but he looks like a racehorse doing it."

Winants competes in the jumper division at horse shows and Class Bopper is always a handful in the warm-up ring but immediately focuses on the job once he goes into the arena.

"It's almost like he's going to the starting gate—he's jigging, bucking a little bit. But then he just goes into the ring and is totally like 'I know what I'm doing.'"

They clearly knew what they were doing last September when they competed to raise money for Thoroughbred aftercare in The Real Rider Cup charity event. Younger sister Mell also participated on Orchestra Leader, a horse she still rides on the NSA circuit. As her daughters prepared to van over to Priscilla Godsoe's Covert Farm in Nottingham, Pa., for their jumping rounds and video biographies, Lilith Boucher threw down a challenge: "You should do this bareback."

"I got there and I was looking around, and I thought 'I'm gonna try it.' I thought if it didn't go well, I'd go back and get my saddle," said Winants. "But that's the kind of confidence Bopper gives you. You know the jumps are never going to be an issue. If you can hang on to him, it's going to be so much fun. And we had a beautiful round."

In the video afterward, Winants couldn't help but get a little emotional.

"I feel like I'm finally getting my turn with him, and it's very exciting. We're getting kind of a second chance together, which is a lot of fun." ✸

Determined to make a difference

February can be tough on Matt Dorman. Twenty-five years ago last month, his sister Barbara was murdered. She was 36. Doctors and investigators said her killer was having a psychotic episode when he stabbed her, and later determined that he was insane. He'd been released from a psychiatric hospital without community-based care late the previous year.

Tragedy can break people. Or make them. In the midst of a successful management career including positions with Lockheed Martin's e-commerce division and jobs working for Senators Paul Sarbanes and Al Gore, Dorman took a simple approach to his sister's murder and the rest of his life.

He created a technology company geared around behavioral health. Modern software could help doctors and other medical professionals track patients, and their care. Patients could get better treatment. And maybe, just maybe, fewer families would have to go through a tragedy.

"The concept of taking a bad situation and making sure other people don't have to go through that through technology made sense to me," he said. "I had worked in the technology sector, so I kind of thought it made sense or it could make sense anyway."

Oh, it made sense.

At first, Dorman's company Credible Behavioral Health was like any other start-up. It was simply a concept, and required long days (and nights), investments and loads of sales pitches. Founded in 2000, it became an industry leader with 500 partner agencies in 38 states and annual revenues exceeding $40 million.

"The first 10 years of the company, we didn't mention it or talk about it," he said of his sister's death and his personal connection to such a business idea. "I didn't want to capitalize on it, but it was always part of it. Obviously, if it weren't for what happened I wouldn't have started the company."

In 2015, Goldman Sachs came on board with funding. Four years later it was Martis Capital, an investment company specializing in healthcare. In August 2020, Credible merged with Qualifacts to create an even bigger company serving more than 800 behavioral health agencies nationwide.

"We were mission-based, but we had shareholders and the goal was always to increase shareholder value," Dorman said of Credible's path. "After a lot of 20-hour days for years, all the sudden we woke up one day and were one of the top three in the industry. When we brought in Goldman Sachs in 2015, that got us to the next level and my plan was to get it to a certain level and then get out."

And Dorman—who guided his company through the early days of uncertainty, the pressure of finding investors, the growing pains of any start-up all while thinking about his sister—got out.

He's technically a "strategic advisor" to the new company, now based in Silicon Valley, Calif., and Nashville, Tenn., under the guidance of private equity firms Warburg Pincus and Martis, but the work, headaches, board meetings, client pitches, staffing issues, server platforms and all the other details you can think of (and some you can't) are somebody else's responsibility now.

"When you think about it now, millions of lives get affected every single day," he said. "People get better because of it. It's a good thing. I miss it sometimes. I don't miss the long days and some of the uncertainty of the early days, but we did a whole lot of good."

Dorman grew up going to the races in Maryland, as a fan, with his father Arthur, a state senator and delegate. The Dormans went to Bowie, attended the Preakness, met former Maryland Jockey Club owner Frank De Francis and his son Joe. Owning Thoroughbreds? That might be fun someday.

Someday arrived with the purchase of a small share in Disguise, a claimer trained by Phil Schoenthal, in 2010 and kept on arriving with $643,045 earner Sonny Inspired (named for his father's nickname) and others racing under the stable name D Hatman Thoroughbreds and/or in partnership with Schoenthal until showing up with the clout of a tech company IPO in 2020.

In about six months, Dorman has assembled Maryland's best broodmare band, purchased a barn at Fair Hill Training Center and taken steps toward creating a farm in Boyds, Md. What's more, he's got a string of valuable 2-year-olds headed toward the races. He calls it Determined Stud, and who could blame him?

And if a chilly morning visiting mares and foals at Sycamore Hall Farm in Chesapeake City, Md., was any indication, Dorman can look forward to brighter Februaries.

"I think she'd enjoy it," he said of his sister's opinion of his new venture. "She was probably the least serious of the four of us kids. The rest of us are more driven or more something. She was more happy-go-lucky. She would have had a great time with the horses and all of this." ✷

Owner/breeder Dorman takes Determined Stud to next level

By Joe Clancy. Photographs by Sara Gordon.

Matt Dorman's best day as a handicapper came at the 2015 Breeders' Cup, when he hit the pick four. Found (Ire), 6-1 winner of the Turf-G1, helped fuel the big payout and Dorman remembered that day as he signed for a $300,000 yearling filly out of Found's full-sister at Keeneland September last year.

Of course, Dorman's trainer Phil Schoenthal didn't hesitate to bring things back to reality.

"Congratulations," Schoenthal said. "You're now several hundred thousand dollars behind on the biggest handicapping win of your life."

Dorman can give as well as he takes, telling Schoenthal that the pressure to deliver victories at the racetrack only increases with the quality of the horses on the roster.

"We move into our barn at Fair Hill Training Center March 1, so I figure by March 15 or so Phil ought to start winning races," Dorman deadpanned while going over the goals for 2021.

So it goes for Dorman and Schoenthal, whose owner/trainer relationship feels more like two friends hashing over after-work plans in town. Don't let the jokes fool you, they're serious about Determined Stud – Dorman's new Thoroughbred breeding/racing/sales venture based in Maryland and full of quality broodmares, 2-year-olds, yearlings and newborn foals. The 40 (and counting) horses represent more than $10 million in auction purchases since November, and a business model that rivals any in the region. Dorman recently sold his share of a technology start-up company he founded in 2000 and has taken a similar approach to Determined Stud, which will eventually be based at a 400-acre farm in Boyds, Md., northwest of Gaithersburg, and that barn at Fair Hill recently purchased from Glen Hill Farm.

Determined will breed and raise Maryland-breds by top stallions (Kentucky-based for now), sell most of the colts, keep and race most of the fillies, create a broodmare band and operate at the highest levels of the sport.

"It's a business venture so at the end of the day it's got to make sense," Dorman said. "It's fun, but we're starting a business. Part of it is amazing and a dream come true, but this is kind of what I do. You lay out a plan and then you execute it. A lot of people wouldn't have been as aggressive, but it's like an integrated company; you've got the farm, the breeding side, the racing side, the sales side, the different people who are part of it all."

Invitation (Ire) and her Justify colt born Jan. 31 get in some steps at Sycamore Hall Farm in Chesapeake City, Md.

And the horses.

Dorman grew up going to the races with his father Arthur, an eye doctor and former state senator and delegate in Maryland.

Owning horses seemed plausible after success in a career of some sort, and Dorman made good on it when he bought part of a horse with Schoenthal in 2010. You know how it goes. Dorman met a guy at the airport on the way home from the 2006 Breeders' Cup. They were commiserating over waiting in a Southwest line while looking at Sheikh Mohammed's private jet on the tarmac.

Dorman turned to a stranger and said, "I bet he's not in line for a B seat." The stranger, Matt Tietze, knew Schoenthal and made the introduction.

"With new people I advise them to buy 5 percent of a horse to get a feel for how it actually goes before they jump in, so I sold him 5 percent of a $5,000 claimer I owned," said Schoenthal, based in Maryland since becoming a trainer in 2003. "He won three or four times, and from there on out Matt was a good owner in the barn. We would go to a sale and buy two, three, four horses focused on Maryland-breds and having local kinds of horses."

They hit it, relatively, big with stakes winners Sonny Inspired and Elevated plus a few others with Dorman buying and racing as D Hatman Thoroughbreds.

All the while, Dorman's business Credible Behavioral Health grew into a giant in the healthcare industry. The company specifically created software for clinics, communities, residential facilities and mobile care providers in the behavioral health field. In 1996, Dorman's sister was murdered by a man who was released from a psychiatric hospital a few months earlier and had no community-based care. In response to a tragedy, Dorman launched a business that might protect some other family from the pain and loss inflicted on his. That was the mission. The rest was work, and Credible spun up into a company that reached 38 states, employed 150 people and worked with 500 partner agencies. Goldman Sachs and others invested and last year Dorman sold while Credible merged with another company to create an even bigger industry leader.

"He had an idea, he built a company based on a purpose-driven idea and it ended up being worth tons of money," Schoenthal said. "He'd been telling me for a couple years that he was going to get into racing at a bigger level and really invest in it, but people say that kind of stuff. People talk a big game. Horse training is a day-to-day business, so I didn't think about it too much. The time came, he sold his company and said he was going to focus on building the farm and being a racehorse owner."

Consider it done.

Schoenthal and Dorman bought 13 yearlings at the sales in September and October, spending more than $2 million while adding Kentuckian Scott Mallory to the team. They went after broodmares in November, adding 15 (well, 14.5 as they split one with Hill 'n' Dale Farm) for more than $5 million. Five more joined the squad in January, along with a broodmare prospect who will go racing, for $2.15 million. The future also includes three November weanling purchases at just above $1 million total, and all those foals being born at Sycamore Hall Farm in Maryland (mostly) and Kentucky.

The shopping spree was by design, and created an instant portfolio of horses at all tab stops on the spreadsheet, but also took advantage of a market that dipped because of the coronavirus pandemic.

SONNY INSPIRED

Matt Dorman always has carrots at the ready when he visits his horses. Benvenutta, full-sister to leading sire Constitution, makes sure she gets hers.

"The prices were good, maybe not as good as I thought, but it felt like timing was on my side a little bit," Dorman said. "It seemed like the European market was down more than the American market. You had dispersals from Sam-Son Farm [in November] and Paul Pompa [in January], and that kind of kept the prices up, but we at least knew the horses were going to be sold."

Mares and foals, oh my

Though the long game involves mares on the in-the-works Determined Stud facility in Montgomery County, Chesapeake City's Sycamore Hall Farm more than filled in as a home base for the 2021 season. Mares have already started delivering foals–whose sires Into Mischief, Justify, Uncle Mo, Nyquist and others draw instant reactions from visitors–under the watch of David Wade and assistant farm manager Emma Rakosky.

"It's exciting for us to have mares like this, not just for Sycamore Hall but for the whole area," said Rakosky. "I'm kind of honored to be able to care for these girls. David asked if we had room for a couple more mares this year. Then he said it might be more than a couple. Then he started talking about the mares. We have some nice mares of our own too, and I love them all, but this is a nice thing to be part of."

Rakosky called Benvenutta, a full-sister to top stallion Constitution, a personal favorite. The gray 4-year-old filly was carrying her first foal (by Omaha Beach) and cost $400,000. In early February, she looked a picture–trotting around a small paddock and watching a week-old foal next door.

"She's well-bred and that makes you pay attention but she's just very sweet, so just chill," Rakosky said. "She's here for whatever it is we're doing that day. We try to keep a close eye on the maidens like her. You aren't really sure what you're going to get with them. They can go early, they go unexpectedly. Sometimes when they foal it takes them a little while to realize what actually just happened. They can be like, 'Oh, I have a responsibility now.' She'll be a great mom."

Nobody would call Dorman hands on, but he shows up with pockets full of carrots, will grab a lead shank when necessary and isn't fazed by muddy boots.

"He asks a lot of really good questions and is really interested in what's going on with the mares and the foals," Rakosky said. "He's very understanding that things can happen, but he's really excited about everything too. It's great to have owners caring how their horses are doing. He's really interested and it's fun and a really neat opportunity to get somebody excited about something like this."

On the other end of the spectrum from Benvenutta stands Tenacious Jewel, who may or may not go by "Jaws" around the barn. She's got a big personality, plenty of opinions and a striking Into Mischief filly born Jan. 23. Tenacious Jewel lost all six of her starts on the racetrack, but her dam Bizzy Caroline won two Grade 3 stakes and is a half-sister to champion Lady Eli.

"It's her first foal, and she's a great mom who loves her baby a lot," said Rakosky of the $335,000 purchase. "But she really speaks to her name, she's tough, and she passed that tenaciousness on to her foal. In the long run, that helps them produce racehorses. That grit they pass on makes them good racehorses."

Chestnut mare Invitation (Ire) won a single race for Coolmore and Aidan O'Brien in Ireland, but she packs a world-class pedigree led by sire Galileo (Ire) and backed by dam Night Lagoon (Ger) who won a Group 3 in her home country and produced 11 winners led by Novellist, who won Group 1 races in Germany, England, France and Italy. She cost $425,000 and her 10-day-old colt—who wouldn't last a minute in a spot-Justify's-son lineup—enjoyed some time in the Maryland mud and drew a laugh from Dorman with a skidding turn at the far end.

"It's like watching my kids learn to ice skate," said the owner, a 56-year-old father of two (Blake, 15, and Chase, 11).

Dorman spent just as much time saying hello to $37,000 purchase Danette, a daughter of Curlin, and her newborn Outwork foal as he did the six-figure purchases, so it's not like he plays favorites.

"She's a big, strapping mare that we really like," Dorman said. "She's beautiful and this foal is a big, good-looking foal too. People would say she's got a decent page, but she's got great conformation and has a couple decent horses on the ground. We were scratching our heads trying to find out why she was so cheap, but we'll take it."

Opportunity Knocks

Talk to horse trainers and they will almost always say that—at some point—they're only as good as the horses in the barn.

Opportunities to upgrade only come along so often, and Schoenthal won't let this one pass. He gives up familiarity of his barn at Laurel Park, and will probably lose some horses as owners choose to stay at the racetrack with other trainers, but gains the flexibility to race anywhere in the country and gets an influx of rare talent to the stable in a dozen or so 2-year-olds.

They averaged more than $168,000 in the sales ring, and that potential will go a long way toward minimizing any stress that comes with the move.

"I'm the only trainer in America right now that's got a guy doing what he's doing," Schoenthal said. "It means a lot to me. It's the first real major opportunity that I've had in my career. I've had some nice horses for nice owners, but to have somebody step up and spend the money that he is is rare. He's loyal to me, I appreciate that and I'm going to get the opportunity to prove I belong with the big guys."

Schoenthal did his homework, getting advice from trainer Mike Trombetta (who splits his stable between Laurel and Fair Hill) and others. Previously owned by Glen Hill Farm and before that Team Valor, the barn at Fair Hill has 40 stalls. Home to horses trained by Graham Motion, Michael Matz, Kelly Rubley, Arnaud Delacour and Shug McGaughey among others, the 300-acre facility has two tracks, dirt and Tapeta, plus access to the 5,600-acre state natural resources area and the Fair Hill Races turf course which was rebuilt in 2019-20.

Schoenthal, who bought a home near Fair Hill in Pennsylvania, and Dorman expect to have horses on the grounds this month. For all its benefits, Fair Hill comes with additional costs to owners and trainers as there is no housing for barn help, horses ship to race and track maintenance and other costs are offset by per-stall fees.

"We're relocating the whole operation up there and will make a go of it," Schoenthal said. "It's a lot of stress, and some anxiety, but it's an opportunity and you don't say no to things like this. It's going to cost more to be at Fair Hill, and I'm hoping that being there will also attract clients who would not come to Laurel."

Beyond Fair Hill, Virginia trainer Jeff Murphy benefited from Dorman's vision as the choice to prep the yearlings (now 2-year-olds) purchased in 2020. The former steeplechase jockey has stalls at Long Branch Farm in Boyce and expanded to rent additional space nearby from Amy Moore in Millwood.

Murphy credited the Virginia-certified program with helping him "to no end," but also had a connection with Schoenthal.

"Morgan's Ford Farm is my oldest and best client, and they send a lot of their horses to Phil, so it's all through Phil," Murphy said of the business relationship with Dorman. "They bought all those horses in September and had talked to me a year or so before and told me they were going to have a whole bunch coming and to make sure we had space."

Murphy compared it to Christmas morning, as van loads of yearlings arrived in September.

"They were sending me the pedigrees and I love seeing pedigrees like that," he said. "Then the trucks came with nice horses. One was nicer than the other."

Murphy took his time, got all of the early work out of the way and was waiting for a break in the winter weather before finishing things off and targeting the first group to send to Fair Hill. They'll probably get up to working three-eighths in Virginia, before shipping to Maryland.

"We haven't been to the track yet, but I never do that this time of year," he said in early February. "You could go to the track [at Middleburg Training Center], but we'll just wait. They've been in my starting gate, they've learned their leads in the ring and they still get to be horses turned out in the fields too."

When their price tags hit lofty heights and their sires include American Pharoah, Tapit, Medaglia d'Oro, Empire Maker and so on, it's not easy picking favorites. Murphy raved about a Flatter filly out of the Maria's Mon mare No Use Denying. Named Determined Truth, the $100,000 purchase is a half-sister to Grade 1 winner Perfect Alibi. An Honor Code filly named Determined Star is out of Often (Ire), a half-sister to Irish champion and leading sire Giant's Causeway. Murphy can see her starring on the turf someday. Medaglia d'Oro filly Determined Gold is out of Starstruck (Ire), a Grade 3 winner and stakes producer.

"Literally every horse has done well, I'm pretty confident they're going to go on and do things," said Murphy. "They're like getting on sports cars and they've gotten so personable. Horses from the sale . . . it takes them awhile to come into themselves. They've just had a few months where they didn't get to be horses out in the fields like they did before. You start to figure out their personalities after awhile and it's fun.

"I'll be looking forward to September again. They've bought some nice horses and been smart about it. They know what they're doing."

Making Connections

One Determined Stud mare won't come to Maryland as Dorman and John Sikura of Hill 'n' Dale Farm teamed up to buy Desert Isle for $1.1 million from the Sam-Son Farm dispersal at Fasig-Tipton November. Sikura met Dorman through Schoenthal and offered counsel on stallion choices, owning mares and the Thoroughbred business in general. When it came time for the sale, both men liked Desert Isle and joined forces.

"Sam-Son families are important, and we had talked about her," said Sikura in February. "She was more expensive than she should have been, and we got to a million. We were bidding and I looked over at Matt."

Sikura asked a simple question. "Should we go one more time?"

Dorman nodded, said "Go ahead," and the daughter of Bernardini and the Smart Strike mare Eye of the Sphynx gained new owners. Of course, Sikura offered one more bit of advice when it came to the purchase.

"Matt, this is not a critique at all on your farm or Maryland but if I'm going to be partners in a mare like this I want the mare here," Sikura said of Hill 'n' Dale's new base at historic Xalapa Farm in Paris, Ky. The farm stands such luminary stallions as Curlin, Kitten's Joy, Violence and others and plays at the absolute top of the Thoroughbred game. Again, Dorman followed Sikura's lead.

"A lot of people would push back," Sikura said. "To be open-minded like that, some people will insert their ego into it or say something about their farm to me."

Desert Isle delivered an American Pharoah colt (bound for a sale) at Xalapa and will be bred to Speightstown. Dorman still can't quite believe the progression.

"I can't say enough about how John has helped Determined Stud with advice," he said. "He's the one who said that the stallion component was missing from our business plan. We were going to buy quality mares, and we were going to have a lot of money going out to stallions, so it made sense to buy shares in stallions, and be part of some syndicates whether it was new or proven stallions."

Sikura likes Dorman's approach, and sees him building a Thoroughbred business along the lines of his previous startup.

"He's buying quality, he's getting input from very good horsemen, he's capitalized to do it the right way," Sikura said. "Like anybody first starting out he'll do some things he might do a little differently the next time, but I think he's created a great foundation and bought a lot of important, nice mares. He had Phil there when they were looking at mares to buy. That's important.

"His approach doesn't seem to be knee-jerk, it's not like he bought three 2-year-olds at the sale [with eyes on a quick trip to the Kentucky Derby]. He bought mares, yearlings, he's going to have foals this year, he bought a training barn at a place like Fair Hill. He's building a farm. He's trying to build a cohesive business."

What it means for Maryland, region

Dorman's quality mares probably won't visit Maryland stallions—not yet anyway—but they'll deliver foals in the state and put state-bred horses into the upper levels of the marketplace. The farm in Boyds will mean jobs, open space, economic activity, all the stuff industry leaders talk to politicians about. Same goes for the training barn at Fair Hill. Sycamore Hall made room for the Dorman mares and their foals. Crossing a border, Virginia's certified residency program lured the Dorman 2-year-olds to Murphy this year and will remain part of the model.

"Where else can you increase what you earn by 25 percent?" Dorman asked about the state's owner bonus for a certified horse winning a race in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Maryland and Virginia. "That's important to a business."

Indirectly, a state's Thoroughbred industry benefits from an investment such as Dorman's. Better Maryland-breds on racetracks and in sales rings raise values of Maryland-breds everywhere.

"One of my sayings for a long time is that we've been breeding horses but not breeding any breeders," said Sycamore Hall's Wade, a member of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association board of directors. "We need new people like this. There aren't a lot of new breeders, there aren't a lot of new farms springing up. This isn't just a new farm springing up, this is a farm springing up in a big way. It will have a big effect on the state. The rest of us will have to step up, for starters."

Wade also hopes to lure a stallion or two to Northview Stallion Station that might keep some Dorman mares in Maryland.

Dorman graduated from the University of Maryland and grew up going to the races at Bowie, Laurel, Pimlico. His father, who died in 2012, served in the state legislature. Matt remembers meeting Frank De Francis. Dorman's first racehorse ran in Maryland with Schoenthal. The state was always going to be where Dorman put his racing business, if he had one.

"I was born and raised in Maryland and the idea is to have horses by top-class sires and have Maryland-breds," he said. "I think Maryland's got a really good racing program. Kentucky gets a lot more attention for a good reason. But here, the land is good, the positioning is good. We have a barn at Fair Hill, and that's as good a training center as you'll find anywhere. Once the farm is finished, we'll have it covered as far as breeding, training and being able to race them out of Fair Hill."

Sikura sees the possibilities for Dorman, and the state.

"Maryland has such a rich history in the business," he said. "I know it's challenging times, but things are on the upswing. If there were three guys like Matt in the business there, it would be really rejuvenating for Maryland. They're the kind of people that make the game move forward. Legends are of the past. It's the new guys that push things."

Maryland lost a major influence on its Thoroughbred program when Sagamore Farm closed its racing and breeding operation last year. Determined Stud is not Sagamore Farm–there's no Native Dancer back there in the history pages for starters–and Dorman won't mention his still fledgling operation in the same breath, but there are plenty of parallels. Under Armour founder Kevin Plank bought Sagamore in 2007, had enough capital to rebuild it into a showplace and won a Breeders' Cup race with Shared Account three years later. The farm raised another Breeders' Cup winner in Sharing, bred Maryland-bred star Harpers First Ride and went to racing's highest levels with Miss Temple City and others.

Sagamore was named Maryland's Breeder of the Year in 2019, but will no longer raise horses as Plank opted to use the farm to grow rye for his Sagamore Spirit distillery in Baltimore. The absence will be felt on Maryland-bred leaderboards, and elsewhere, and maybe Determined can help. Dorman, for one, welcomes the opportunity.

"I remember when Shared Account won the Breeders' Cup," he said. "In the interview Kevin Plank said he worked all day on the company, but took a few hours off to go to the Breeders' Cup. I remember thinking that if I ever got lucky enough to have a Breeders' Cup winner, I didn't want to be like that. I didn't want the company to get in the way of something like that.

"I love Shared Account because of that moment–we got outbid on her [at Fasig-Tipton November], but I love her. I'm happy to have the career behind me. Horses are the focus now." ✷

V for Victory

Breeder, co-owner McGrath soaks in championship season with Parx-based Vequist

By Tom Law

Tom McGrath wound up tackled and with broken glasses—all in good fun, of course—after experiencing the thrill of his first Grade 1 victory at Saratoga Race Course in 2012.

The scene unfolded when Poseidon's Warrior, a Maryland-bred running in McGrath's brown and black Swilcan Stable colors, upset the Alfred G. Vanderbilt Handicap-G1. McGrath and trainer Butch Reid watched the then 4-year-old son of Speightstown prevail at 36-1 in a slugfest with Justin Phillip and Emcee as heavy favorite Shackleford finished last. A former college wrestler, Reid bum-rushed McGrath in the front row of the clubhouse boxes.

Nine years later they were at it again but with 2020 being 2020 and the racing world continuing to deal with the effects of the Covid-19 pandemic, the scene proved altogether different. No tackling, no bear hug, not even a high five came this time, as Vequist romped to a 9½-length maiden-breaking win in the Spinaway Stakes-G1 while Reid watched live at Saratoga and McGrath saw it on television at home outside Philadelphia.

The experience of it all—along with Vequist's season-ending victory in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies-G1 in November and subsequent Eclipse Award for champion 2-year-old filly—proved equally memorable even without the potential for bodily harm.

"I suppose it's like Tom Brady winning Super Bowls, it's special every time," McGrath said just a few days after the seventh for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers quarterback.

"My wife is awesome and she said, 'Just go,' leading up to the [Spinaway]. But it's a seven-, eight-hour drive, there were no concessions, no going out to dinner after and I'd essentially be driving up and going back. And of course the mood on the way back depends on what happens for two minutes."

More like one minute, 22.29 seconds.

That's the time it took Vequist to dismantle five other 2-year-old fillies in the Spinaway, 39 days after she finished second in a maiden special weight at Parx Racing. That race wasn't any ordinary Wednesday maiden, nor a run-of-the-mill nose defeat. Vequist earned strong speed figures that late July afternoon and suitors came calling.

Gary Barber and Adam Wachtel, savvy horseplayers and owners who have teamed on other private purchases including eventual 2020 Eclipse Award winner Channel Maker, named a price McGrath called "extremely generous" and he sold 75 percent of his filly by Nyquist out of the Mineshaft mare Vero Amore.

"It was a win-win for me," said McGrath, a partner in Aero Aggregates, which manufactures ultra-lightweight aggregate for infrastructures from 100-percent recycled container glass. "They reached out through Butch and it was a fair offer. For me it gave me the opportunity, in an uncertain year, to lock in some value. In addition to that, and just as important to me, to stay in on the filly and be associated with them. It's an honor; they're at the top of the game. It's been nothing but fun, an unbelievable year."

The fun started almost immediately when the new owners suggested the 7-furlong Spinaway.

Reid, who annually takes a few stalls at Saratoga to bring runners from his Parx base he feels might fit, admitted it wouldn't have been his first, second or maybe even third choice.

"Adam Wachtel and Gary Barber, they stepped up there and got involved," Reid said. "As you know Adam is a big and avid numbers guy, high on the Ragozin sheets. Even in defeat she ran one of, if not the best, Ragozin numbers in the country at that time. They jumped in and they're very aggressive, wanted to see their investment pay out early and take a chance. Fortunately I was smart enough to go along with it and it worked out for the best."

McGrath watched the race from home, with his wife Sue and sons Conor and Liam, who made the short trip from Temple University where they play on the golf team.

"You normally would never dream of missing a Grade 1 race if you were anywhere in the vicinity of the track," McGrath said. "But [2020], with everything being like it was, it was good to watch with everybody on TV."

McGrath's interest and investments in racing started in that same suburban Philadelphia neighborhood.

A neighbor, Joe Lerro, was involved in the Philly-based Cash is King partnership which made national headlines in 2004 and 2005 with Afleet Alex, who won the Sanford-G2 and Hopeful-G1 at Saratoga as a juvenile and Arkansas Derby-G2, Preakness Stakes-G1 and Belmont Stakes-G1 en route to champion 3-year-old honors.

McGrath watched Afleet Alex run through his career and made sure he spoke to Lerro. "Joe, if you ever do that again, count me in," McGrath said.

"That opened the door," McGrath said. "As often happens, lightning doesn't always strike twice. But those guys have been extremely lucky and I've gotten to learn a lot from them. We did well together on a few things we've done."

McGrath, who named his operation Swilcan Stable after the famous small stone bridge at St. Andrews golf course in Scotland, partnered on runners with Lerro and Chuck Zacney. The owner took a big plunge in the summer of 2011 when he bought out Zacney for sole ownership of Poseidon's Warrior.

He was a two-time stakes winner at that point and made his debut for Swilcan in the King's Bishop-G1 on the Travers Day undercard at Saratoga. He finished sixth, beaten 11¼ lengths to Caleb's Posse in a field that included Uncle Mo, Justin Phillip, Dominus and Flashpoint. Poseidon's Warrior went on to win three more stakes for Swilcan and Reid—the New Castle at Delaware Park and Le Bagoter at Penn National, and then the Vanderbilt to kick off the mini thrashing session.

The relationship with Reid and his wife and assistant Ginny continued to grow with runners here and there—including some Poseidon's Warrior homebreds. Reid picked Vero Amore out of the 2013 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic 2-year-old sale and bought her on behalf of Swilcan for $15,000.

Bred by Bob LaPenta, Vero Amore won two of 16 starts, and finished second in the 2014 Black-Eyed Susan-G2 at Pimlico. The

INTO MISCHIEF–ROSEMONDE, BY INDIAN CHARLIE

GRADE 1 SON OF SUPER SIRE INTO MISCHIEF

> “ROWAYTON is a rare opportunity for Pennsylvania breeders. His sire, Into Mischief, is one of the most important stallions to come along in decades and being out of an Indian Charlie mare from a top-class family lends breeders a chance to hit a home-run. He was a beast, he had the heart, the mind and he’s a beautiful specimen. He won on debut at Del Mar and he placed in TWO Grade 1’s as a 2YO at Del Mar and Santa Anita against that year’s 2YO Champion, Game Winner. We raced him against the best and at three, he was only beaten a nose, nose, and a neck in the Grade 1 H. Allen Jerkens Stakes at Saratoga in a four-horse photo. This is why I am supporting him with my own mares.”

filly earned $252,255 and convinced McGrath that he should enter the breeding game.

"Vero Amore, when we picked her out of the sale she had perfect conformation she was just a little bit on the small side. But she did everything well," Reid said. "She's one that for a relatively inexpensive price that we've done pretty well with. A lot of Poseidon's Warrior's babies have done well for us, too.

"We've had some good times and some down times, as anybody else in this sport can tell you, there have been some rough patches. Thankfully, especially with this last one, the good has heavily outweighed the bad."

Vero Amore retired in early 2015 and McGrath bred her to Super Saver. She produced a colt in 2016, Vero Sun, and he's won two of 20 and $83,770 through Feb. 16 mostly in the claiming ranks. Vero Amore's second foal, the now 4-year-old More Than Ready filly Voting Agreement, sold for $130,000 at the 2018 Keeneland September yearling sale and won her debut midway through the 2019 Saratoga meeting for Klaravich Stables and trainer Chad Brown. She was purchased by Dell Ridge Farm for $250,000 at last year's Fasig-Tipton Kentucky November sale, the day after Vero Amore's third foal Vequist won the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies across town at Keeneland.

McGrath considered selling Vero Amore, carrying her foal that would become Vequist, but she didn't meet her reserve on a bid of $135,000 at Keeneland November in 2017. Vequist also made a run through the Keeneland sales ring and went back to the Brookdale Sales consignment unsold on a final bid of $120,000 at the 2019 September sale.

Vequist was foaled and raised at the Seitz family's Brookdale Farm in Versailles, Ky., before receiving her early training at Dr. Barry Eisaman's Eisaman Equine in Ocala, Fla. McGrath credits Brookdale owner Fred Seitz with the mating, along with Eisaman and Reid for all of Vequist's success.

"I will take exactly zero credit," said McGrath, who keeps mares at Brookdale and with Reid's brother Mark at Walnut Green in Kennett Square, Pa., along with standing Poseidon's Warrior at Rodney Eckenrode's Equistar Breeding and Training in Annville, Pa. "We've been blessed to have some luck and you need that in this game, regardless of where you are."

Vequist won the Eclipse Award by a wide margin, earning 212 of a possible 238 first-place votes. Only Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf-G1 winner Aunt Pearl (Ire) and unbeaten Grade 2 winner Malathaat earned votes in the division.

McGrath and his family watched the virtual Eclipse Awards ceremony at home after being notified in advance that Vequist earned the title. Barber accepted on behalf of the team, thanked Reid and his team for "an outstanding training job and for taking care of the filly day in and day out," and McGrath for "letting us in."

The championship was the first for Reid, who started training in 1985 and has conditioned the likes of Breeders' Cup Marathon-G2 winner Afleet Again and graded stakes winners Evil Bear, Majestic Sweep, Project Whiskey and Maximus Mischief. The trainer ended the 2020 season with the second highest purse haul of his career, racking up $2,037,592, behind his $2,275,194 in 2011.

"Winning the Eclipse Award, that was a box I was never sure I'd check in my career," Reid said. "Being at it for 35 years, for my family, my wife Ginny and my daughter Whitney, for them to see those types of accolades it's really something special. That was great."

Reid sent Vequist to South Florida with a small string for the winter with an eye toward her 3-year-old debut probably at Gulfstream Park. ✹

Maryland-based Moscato earns steeplechase Eclipse Award

By Sean Clancy

If there was an Oscar for the best short film of an Eclipse Award winner in 2020, it would be a unanimous choice. Moscato (GB) and his frenemy Scorpiancer (Ire), frolicking/fighting in a small paddock on Maryland winter ground.

Did you see it?

Filmed by Tiffany Webb, the short film showed off steeplechasing at its very core, two champions, enjoying down time. Moscato bites at Scorpiancer's left knee. Scorpiancer paws the ground once, twice, three times like a cornered bull. Then teeth from both corners, like early-round jabs. Left. Right. Left. Right. Left. Right. None land squarely, glancing by design. Jump ball, the two imports stand on their hind legs, suspend in the air like characters in a Dr. Seuss book. Moscato strikes out with his right front, a swipe like he's trying to block a hook shot from the corner. Scorpiancer counters that move with a descent, a spin, a pivot, then a slow-motion chase, another spin move, a double-barrel kick that was never intended to land. The act keeps playing while the film stops.

But, make sure of one thing. Moscato was acting.

Webb's sister, Sandra, knows both of Jack Fisher champions. The 2017 champion, Scorpiancer, yeah, that's him, harassing and provoking the 2020 champion Moscato.

"That's Scorpiancer bringing that out in Moscato," Webb said. "Scorpiancer always needs a full-sized horse with him because he'll jump on top of a smaller babysitter. Moscato is one of the only ones who tolerates him. It works out because Moscato likes to play but at the same time, he's like, 'OK, let's just eat.' He's an easy keeper. They called him fat one day. He's not fat."

Built more like a tank than by type, Moscato was anything but fat in 2020. Owned by Bruton Street-US (like Scorpiancer) and ridden by Michael Mitchell, he made three starts at age 9 during the shortened 2020 season, dominating the Grade 3 Temple Gwathmey at Middleburg in June, winning a thriller in the Grade 1 A.P. Smithwick at Saratoga in July and finishing third in the Grade 1 New York Turf Writers Cup in August to top all horses with $100,000 in earnings. Without a showdown stakes in the fall, Moscato earned a championship over Bruton Street runners Snap Decision and Rashaan. The trio swept all six hurdle stakes during the season.

Bred by Kirsten Rausing, Moscato won four races as a 3-year-old and one as a 4-year-old while following the age-old handicap plan for Sir Mark Prescott. The son of Hernando climbed from a lowly 61 rating to a stellar 95 on the turf in England. The mark became a ceiling as he lost seven consecutive races before bloodstock agent Richard Pitman plucked him from Prescott's yard to go jumping for Bruton Street-UK. Moscato hit the board in three of four starts over hurdles for British trainer Oliver Sherwood before joining Fisher and Webb in Maryland.

"He grew on everybody, I find a lot of the ones we import develop their personalities more over time," said Webb, an eight-year veteran in Fisher's Butler, Md. engine room. "He was the little up and comer, he wasn't like Scorpiancer. His first race out when he was second, we were like, 'Wow, this horse is really talented.' "

Moscato finished second in his American debut in 2017 before winning four of his next five, including an allowance at the Iroquois, the Michael G. Walsh novice stakes at Saratoga and the William Entenmann novice stakes at Belmont Park. The $156,000 spree netted the novice championship and a right suspensory injury.

The time did him good.

"He's changed a good bit, he was more rambunctious in the beginning, he would kick out in his stall, he was more overzealous, he would come back after the sets and a rider would have to go back down because he kicked the PVC pipe going onto the track, almost every day," Webb said. "When he came back from his time off after his first injury, he was just a different horse, chilled out. He became the total chick ride."

Moscato missed all of 2018, re-emerged in April 2019 to win the Temple Gwathmey and finished third in a what-should-have-been Iroquois (behind Scorpiancer), eighth in the Lonesome Glory and third in the Grand National that season.

This season was even better.

"He wasn't necessarily a barn favorite in the beginning," Webb said. "He seemed so tiny when we first got him, the longer we've had him, he's like a little brick house now."

The brick house suffered a left tendon injury after the Turf Writers and will most likely miss the 2021 season. Judging by the film, he'll enjoy the respite.

"It's a thrill. I know I'm not the trainer but to have the second one since I've been here, Scorpiancer meant a lot but now having Moscato is really nice, especially with the shortened season when we didn't get to celebrate the horses as much," Webb said. "He's always been the underdog, always fighting against the top horses, always running spectacularly, always trying. It's nice to see him get the recognition he deserves because he's such a nice horse. He's always run against the other juggernauts of the year."

In 2020, he was the juggernaut. ✷

Rookie Sensation

Laurel success pushes Crispin to Eclipse as top apprentice jockey

By Paul Halloran

For someone who didn't see a live horse race until he was in high school, Alexander Crispin proved to be a lightning-quick study.

Crispin rode his first race as a professional jockey on Jan. 1, 2020, at Hipódromo Camarero in his native Puerto Rico. After winning five races in 57 starts, he made his U.S. debut at Turfway Park 66 days later and it took him only three mounts to win his first race in the U.S. Less than 10 months later, he heard his name called as the outstanding apprentice jockey during the virtual Eclipse Awards ceremony.

"I was watching on YouTube and it was really exciting when it came time to announce the winner," said Crispin, who became the 12th Maryland-based rider to earn the champion apprentice honor. "I was curious, anxious, nervous and pretty excited. I had a good feeling that I was going to be one of the three finalists, but to pick the winner is a tough decision."

Crispin received 79 first-place votes to narrowly beat out Yarmarie Correa, with 74. Luis Cardenas was third with 38 first-place votes.

"It's big because it shows the hard work paid off," said Crispin, who has already made two big moves in less than a year of riding in the U.S. "It's something to enjoy."

The pandemic hit two weeks after Crispin got to Turfway, not exactly ideal timing for a bug rider trying to make it at a new track in a foreign country.

"I got a little desperate," he said, "but I kept a positive mind and I started getting to know more trainers in the morning. I was preparing so that when the tracks reopened I would come out strong."

JIM MCCUE

When racing resumed, Crispin bounced around from Churchill Downs to Belterra Park to Indiana Grand, before taking his tack to Delaware Park in July. The move to the Md-Atlantic proved to be a good one as Crispin won 58 races and finished second in the standings to six-time leading rider Carol Cedeno, who had 80 wins.

"Every time I hit the wire first, it's like winning for the first time," Crispin said. "It gets more exciting and I have more adrenaline."

His next stop was Laurel Park, where he spent the last two months of 2020, winning 29 races in 135 starts and quickly establishing himself as a force.

"He kind of snuck up on everybody real fast and got on a real roll," said trainer Mike Trombetta, who rides Crispin. "He got some live mounts and was in the right place at the right time. A lot of things fell into place for him and he ran with it."

Trombetta doesn't see any one characteristic that explains Crispin's rise, but he knows the numbers do not lie.

"Horses seem to run for him," Trombetta said. "At the end of the day, that's what it's all about. We're in a time where jockeys can't hit horses too many times, so it becomes a finesse game to get horses to respond to what you're doing."

Agent Kevin Witte said Crispin is especially adept with horses who are forwardly placed.

"He has this innate ability to take a speed horse back off the lead, get him to relax and be able to get him going again," Witte said. "He has really good hands."

Even coming off the big meet at Delaware, Crispin had to earn the respect and trust of the Maryland trainers, and that did not happen overnight.

"At the beginning it was really tough for me. I wasn't winning and I was riding only a few races a day," said Crispin, who needed 18 starts to record his first Laurel win, though he did have seven on-the-board finishes before that. "It's tough for the trainers to give you an opportunity when you're not winning."

Crispin found a simple solution to a complex problem.

"I started working twice as hard, going to every barn every day," he said. "I started getting the trainers' attention."

Once Crispin got that first win–bringing home Mrs. Chapman in a $16,000 claimer Nov. 5 for trainer Dale Capuano–it was literally off to the races. He won 29 races in 135 starts at Laurel in 2020 and finished the year with 103 wins overall and almost $2.2 million in earnings. Not bad for a guy who was working at Little Caesars Pizza in Puerto Rico for a year after he graduated high school, while waiting for the Escuela Vocacional Hípica jockey school to reopen after the country was ravaged by Hurricane Maria in 2017.

"At first it was very difficult for me," said Crispin, who went to Camarero for the first time when he was in high school and quickly figured out that he wanted to be a jockey. "I didn't have that much control when I started riding, but I watched videos, talked to jockeys and asked a lot of questions."

After completing the two-year program, Crispin, who spent seven years in Germany as a child when his step-father was stationed at a U.S. Army base there, was ready to try to make it at the racetrack. At that point, it was virtually impossible to predict that he would have a rookie year that has people wondering if he could be the next great Puerto Rican jockey, following in the footsteps of Angel Cordero Jr., John Velazquez, Irad and Jose Ortiz and Manny Franco.

"One of my goals is to do big things just like them," said Crispin, who appreciates the opportunity to ask questions and seek advice from his countrymen. "They are humble guys who are willing to help you out. If I want to learn, I ask questions."

Crispin continues to come up with the right answers on the track, starting off 2021 with 27 wins at Laurel in his first 115 mounts (through Feb. 11) to lead the standings. He knows losing his 5-pound weight allowance on April 25 will present a challenge.

"I'll just keep a positive mind," he said. "I'm really confident trainers will still give me opportunities. I'll keep working hard and doing the same things I have been doing."

Seems like a sound strategy. ✷

Wendell Fong delivers in Fire Plug as new trainer Lynch finds first win

BY MAGGIE KIMMITT. PHOTOGRAPHS BY JIM MCCUE

SUSIE RAISHER

Talie Lynch is the regular morning exercise rider for her trainee Wendell Fong.

As a former assistant to trainers Jeremiah Englehart and Ray Handal, Natalia "Talie" Lynch was a familiar face in the paddock at Saratoga Race Course last summer. Those not paying close attention to the program wouldn't have noticed any difference. She did her job, saddled the horse and accompanied it to the racetrack. Nothing unusual.

The horse was Square Shooter, Lynch's first runner as a trainer. He finished second in the Aug. 30 race and got claimed.

Back in her shedrow, Lynch took a deep breath and tried to digest the previous few hours. The last few years were something else altogether.

Nearly seven years ago, the then 20-year-old stood in the Fair Hill, Md., office of Graham Motion's Herringswell Stables, her first job in the racing industry. She had been galloping racehorses for maybe two weeks, and it wasn't going particularly well. Lynch asked Adrian Rolls, Motion's chief assistant, how she could improve.

"You're not quite ready for this," Rolls told her. "You'll learn more on a farm. But come back to us when you get some experience."

Rolls might have expected a little drama, maybe even a few tears. He got neither. Lynch went home and contacted Kevin and Chris Boniface of Bonita Farm in Darlington, Md. The next morning, she left 30 minutes early so as not to be late for her first day of work at Bonita.

It was all par for the course for Lynch. Growing up in Potomac, Md., she was a successful and sought-after pony rider on the recognized hunter/jumper circuit. The daughter of equine dentist Dennis Lynch and Kim Genner rode more than she walked as a child and was never far from the back of a horse. Tracking the traditional college path, the idea of pursuing a career as a jockey was never far from her thoughts. Trainer J.B. Secor suggested she try working for Motion.

Lynch made the contact, and got the job, but needed more experience. She stayed at Bonita for several months before heading to Elloree Training Center in South Carolina. Spending spring 2015 working with Goree Smith there, she returned to Bonita Farm that summer and a few weeks later received a call from Sue Kenny in Motion's office.

"So," Kenny asked, "Are you good enough yet?"

She was. Lynch returned to Herringswell, galloping and breezing 2-year-olds. In a little over 12 months, she was progressing steadily toward her goal of riding races.

Life is what happens when you're making other plans. By the end of 2015, Lynch was engaged to be married and expecting a baby boy. Son Joseph was born in May 2016, and the new mother shifted to Plan B.

"After Joey was born, I got my real-estate license and wasn't going to go back to the track," she said. "I was going to school, getting my business degree online. I was really missing the horses, and [trainer] Hammy Smith offered me a job galloping in the mornings at Laurel. It was a great situation; I was done by 8 a.m. and the money was good. Then it all snowballed, and next thing I knew I was back to the track."

With support and encouragement from her family, Lynch commuted to Laurel from her home in Bethesda every day. More focused on her goal, she continued to make contacts and gain experience.

"I jumped around a good bit and had a handful of really key people who taught me a lot. We spent five months in Florida while I worked for Brendan Walsh. Then I came home, and Brittany Russell and Bruno Tessore at Laurel really got me started. I learned so much from both, and when Brittany went out on her own, I went with her. Jeremiah Englehart, James Bond . . . they helped me so much."

Russell introduced Lynch to Englehart, suggesting her as his Laurel-based assistant. The association led to Lynch getting an assistant trainer's license and working for him at Belmont until July 2019. While riding out for Bond at Saratoga, she met Handal.

"Then I was back up at Belmont freelancing on some horses for Ray and Bill Mott and trying to figure out my next move," she said. "And I ended up staying."

She had taken and passed the trainer's test in Maryland in 2019, setting her up to branch out in New York.

"I had begun looking for horses for myself," Lynch said. "And Ray was a huge help in getting me started."

Not long after arriving in Saratoga for the 2020 season, Lynch received a phone call from Al Gold of Gold Square LLC offering 10 horses. She exercised and cared for Gold's horses while he had them with Englehart.

"I couldn't turn down that opportunity," Lynch said. "So my six-month plan turned into two weeks."

Gold's racing manager, Joe Hartoon, stepped in to help her get set up administratively. NYRA steward Braulio Baeza also provided guidance. Within days, Lynch's purple and black colors adorned a Saratoga shedrow. And all of it came as a huge surprise to her family.

Wendell Fong gives Talie Lynch her first win as a trainer in the Fire Plug Stakes in January.

"Everything was happening so fast, and they had no idea what was going on. I was so busy trying to get everything organized and set up that I was barely able to answer my phone. And then suddenly I called mom and said 'Yeah, I'm a trainer now and I've got 10 horses.' She just said "What???'"

After the Saratoga meet, Lynch settled back at Belmont, renting a small house near the track in Floral Park for herself, her mother and son. Joey turns 5 this spring and started pre-k last September. Lynch has six employees, 18 horses.

And, now, a stakes winner in Wendell Fong—who pulled a mild upset in Laurel Park's $100,000 Fire Plug Stakes Jan. 16. The win was Lynch's first as a trainer and completed a circle of sorts. She galloped Wendell Fong, a $160,000 Keeneland September purchase in 2017, for Englehart.

"I met Talie when she was working for Jeremiah at Belmont," said Hartoon. "I got to know her pretty well, being at the barn with her every day. I saw how much time and effort she put into each horse. When you see these bigger operations, it's kind of like survival of the fittest. You have to fit their program or you have to find another barn to go to. But with her, she treats them all like individuals. Like humans, they all have their needs, strengths and weaknesses, and Talie is very good at finding those things and working on them."

Lynch had worked with most, if not all, of Gold's horses while with Englehart, so the familiarity was an asset. Wendell Fong's first start for her came in Monmouth Park's Mr. Prospector Stakes in September; he finished fourth. He was eased in his next start at Belmont in October. Back at Laurel for the same conditions Dec. 3, he rebounded with a sharp second to stakes winner Taco Supream.

The timing of the Fire Plug was ideal, so Lynch prepared Wendell Fong at Belmont and shipped him to Russell's barn the morning of the race.

"Sheldon [Russell] was riding him, and that gave me lot of confidence," Lynch said. "Brittany kept texting me 'We got you, don't worry.'"

After clipping heels just after the break, Wendell Fong was last down the backside. Gaining ground by the turn, he swung wide, swapped leads into the stretch and began picking off rivals. He collared leader Share the Ride and crossed the wire a neck in front.

"Sheldon gave the horse as good a ride as you could ask for," Hartoon added. "It was amazing after being so far back.

Wendell Fong just loves to chase horses and run them down."

Lynch wasn't there to celebrate in person, but enjoyed the result just the same.

"My mom, Joey and I watched it from our living room. When he won, my mom and I were crying hysterically," Lynch said. "Joe Hartoon called me, and he was crying hysterically. Joey was running around the room going 'Wendell Fong! Wendell Fong! Why is everyone crying?' "

In his post-race interview in the winner's circle with analyst Tim Tullock, Sheldon Russell gave all credit to Lynch.

"I had spoken to Talie last night and she pretty much said to just leave him alone, don't send him and don't take him back," he said. "He's a professional horse. And drawing from the inside, I didn't really have any options but to sit quiet. I ended up further back than I wanted to. But what a cool horse to ride, and he was ready today. Great job to Talie and her team, and I'm very happy to get Talie her first win as a trainer."

Lynch was especially happy to achieve the milestone at home in Maryland.

"Wendell Fong was one of my favorite horses when I had him at Laurel for Jeremiah. I knew him really well. And now to have this horse in my name as a trainer, having my first win for Al Gold, and at Laurel. This horse is so important to all of us. It's come full circle. It's really cool."

Wendell Fong shipped back to New York, and "walked off the trailer like he was king of the world," according to Lynch. He was sent to Dr. Patty Hogan at New Jersey Equine for some downtime and paddock turnout.

Hartoon said the Carter Handicap-G1 at Belmont Park April 3 is on the table as a consideration for the horse's next start.

Watching the race from his home on Long Island, Lynch client Richie Spiesman celebrated as well. Spiesman, like Hartoon and Gold, met Lynch in New York when she was working as Englehart's assistant.

"I had horses in Jeremiah's barn at the time. Talie was the assistant, but also the exercise rider and breezed the horses. And I noticed that she never stopped working . . . I mean she never, ever stopped. And I kept that in the back of my mind."

Spiesman reached out to Lynch after she left Englehart last summer, but their paths didn't cross again until early fall. He had noticed the name Natalia Lynch in the Belmont entries, but it never rang a bell; he knew her simply as "Talie." When Lynch called him in October, Spiesman jumped at the chance to get on board.

"Everybody deserves a chance–and a fair chance," Spiesman said. "As a woman, especially a young woman, it's so hard in this business because it's a brutal industry. I loved her work ethic, number one, and I just told her 'Look, I know that horses get hurt and that it's very hard to make money. Just tell me the truth and we'll never have a problem.' "

With an assist from Hartoon, Lynch set about finding a horse to claim. They came up with two and decided to go for 4-year-old filly Halo City running for a $40,000 tag at Aqueduct Jan. 28. The filly won–her second straight victory–and Lynch won the three-way shake afterward. She and Spiesman became partners in the horse.

Spiesman admitted he was surprised when Lynch called to say Halo City would run back a week later. In an effort to card a 1-mile starter allowance, the racing office contacted Lynch and asked if she would consider entering the filly for Feb. 4. Lynch replied that as long as all seemed well with the horse, she was game. Trusting his young trainer's judgment, Spiesman approved.

Halo City ran down the leaders and pulled clear in the final 70 yards to win by a half-length. Spiesman was thrilled.

"I'm so proud of Talie. She's working her tail off, there's no doubt about it," he said. "I am 100 percent behind her."

A little more than six months after saddling her first runner, Lynch is a stakes-winning trainer with a barn on the New York circuit and a bright future.

"This is what makes me happy–seeing these horses develop and grow," she said. "I get on everything every morning and breeze them all myself. I know all of them on a completely different level." ✷

The people representing Bridlewood Farm, Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners and Bob LaPenta hit the barn area before Fasig-Tipton's 2-year-old sale at Gulfstream Park in March 2019, scouting prospects and comparing notes.

They found several they liked, including a chestnut daughter of Tonalist in Eddie Woods' consignment who breezed well and made a decent enough appearance at the barn. Trainer Jonathan Thomas liked the Maryland-bred, too, and just like that the band got back together.

"Team effort," Thomas said in early February of the filly, now a 4-year-old named Gale and winner of the $75,000 Geisha Stakes at Laurel Park Jan. 16. "In a weird way we bought Tapwrit very similarly. Eclipse and Aron Wellman, Bob LaPenta and John Panagot and Bridlewood and George Isaacs. We all frequent the same sales. I do some independent work and there are times when we're all kind of laying on the same horse and it makes sense to partner rather than battle each other. That was one of those situations.

"We all loved her breeze. Honestly I liked her breeze more than I liked her on the shank initially. It took awhile for her to come around. She's a very pretty filly that clearly has some ability."

Bridlewood, Eclipse and LaPenta bought the filly for $450,000, about four years after they teamed up at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale to buy eventual Belmont Stakes-G1 winner Tapwrit for $1.2 million.

"Aron Wellman is an immense judge of a horse and we've done well together when we've landed on the same thing and been able to buy them," Thomas said. "Even independent of me training, that's how Tapwrit evolved. We ran into each other and were like, 'Did you see that big old Tapit over there at Denali?' Next thing we knew we're putting together a partnership and we bought him. With her it was the same deal."

Tapwrit ran three times at 2 before developing into a graded stakes winner and eventual classic winner at 3. Gale took a little longer, not making the races in her juvenile season or her debut until late last July.

Thomas picked spots in Maryland for the filly out of the stakes-winning Stormy Atlantic mare Windy Forecast, knowing she'd fit on the dirt or the turf and in waiver-maiden-claiming spots where a Maryland-bred or Maryland-sired horse can waive the claiming price to run.

Gale finished third in her debut going 1 mile on the turf before being elevated to second on a disqualification. She won back-to-back starts after that—taking a 1 1/16-mile turf maiden by 6½ lengths and an off-the-turf 1-mile allowance by 13½ lengths.

The second win backed Thomas' confidence that Gale could handle the dirt and he eyed the Comely Stakes-G3 at Aqueduct in November. Sent off as the 2-1 favorite, Gale stumbled at the start, bumped another foe and tracked the pace from there in the 9-furlong stakes. She advanced to second around the far turn before fading in the stretch to finish fifth.

"We felt like we were bringing her into great form for the Comely," Thomas said. "I was feeling pretty bullish for her, but after the opening few furlongs, a quarter-mile, felt pretty deflated with the trip and the way the race ended up setting up. I don't know that it was a true reflection on her ability level."

The Geisha about two months later afforded another opportunity. Restricted to Maryland-bred or Maryland-sired older fillies and mares, the 1-mile stakes proved just the spot for Gale to get back on track.

She broke slow—but clean—and after recovering set the pace on an open lead through fractions of :23.87, :46.43 and 1:12.11 before maintaining her advantage through the lane under Sheldon Russell. They won in 1:39.24 and by 2¾ lengths from Kiss the Girl, with Coconut Cake another 7¼ lengths back in third.

Bred by Robert S. Evans, who campaigned Tonalist during his career that included a victory in the 2014 Belmont Stakes and back-to-back editions of the Jockey Club Gold Cup-G1, Gale is the first foal out of Windy Forecast. She's one of 11 winners produced by the unraced Forty Niner mare Scapegoat, also the dam of stakes winners Tres Coronas and Descapate. Gale sold for $175,000 as a weanling and $200,000 as a yearling before landing with her current connections.

Gale didn't enter in either of the spots for older fillies and mares on the February Winter Sprintfest card—the Runhappy Barbara Fritchie-G3 or Nellie Morse—with Thomas opting for a bit more time.

"It's fun to do well irrespective, but really fun when you do it with people that you have a bond with and really respect in the game and have fun with, too," Thomas said.

Work In Progress

Gale's victory in the Geisha was part of a five stakes-win day on the Winter Carnival card for runners bred in the Mid-Atlantic.

Tattooed added to the haul with a victory in the 79th edition of the $75,000 Jennings Stakes for Maryland-bred or Maryland-sired runners, becoming a stakes winner as a 6-year-old. A homebred for Kenneth Holt, Theodore Montuori and Palumbo Racing Stable, Tattooed continued his consistent career with a neck victory over Galerio and 8-5 favorite Cordmaker in the 1-mile stakes.

"These owners have been so good, allowing the horse to come along and it paid off," said trainer Tim Keefe. "The same kind of situation and thing I had with Arnie [Heft, owner of four-time Jennings winner and millionaire Eighttofasttocatch]. He was always patient. Not every horse is going to develop and turn into a good horse but certainly if you don't give them the time to grow and develop they aren't going to do it."

A Maryland-bred gelding by Etched out of the winning Oratory mare Tough Talkin Lady, Tattooed improved to 6-10-4 from 32 starts with the win. He only made three stakes appearances before the Jennings—all in the Maryland Million Classic—with a third in 2020 the lone placing.

"As a young horse he was very green. Maybe not green, but immature," Keefe said. "It took him a long time to grow up and quite honestly he still hasn't grown up. A lot of times by the time they turn 6 the more mellow they get, the more into a rhythm they get and he knows. He loves being out here at the track. He's the kind of horse that just flourishes, loves being out here and training. Pete [Brown-Whale], my rider who has been with me a long time, gets on him and has done a great job. He's not the easiest horse to ride. He can be a little tricky."

Maryland-breds won the next two stakes on the card—Hello Beautiful in the $100,000 What a Summer and Street Lute in the $100,000 Xtra Heat. Kenny Had a Notion, a Virginia-bred son of Great Notion, finished the day with a victory in the inaugural $100,000 Spectacular Bid Stakes for 3-year-olds. ✷

Steward, retired jockey puts wraps on long career in Mid-Atlantic racing

They were into the far turn in the 1977 Preakness and Danny Wright, aboard second choice Cormorant, was feeling pretty good, having maintained a short yet contested lead over Kentucky Derby-G1 winner Seattle Slew for 6 furlongs of the second leg of the Triple Crown.

"I was going down the backside thinking, this is so fantastic," Wright recalled. "[Jean] Cruguet comes up on my outside and says, 'Where do you think you're going, jock?' Then he blew me away."

Cormorant finished a respectable fourth, considering the demanding pace–1:09⅘ for three-quarters–as Seattle Slew cruised to a comfortable win on the way to becoming racing's 10th Triple Crown winner (of 13).

It was a highlight for Wright, who nine days later rode Cormorant to a win in the Grade 1 Jersey Derby. The following year, Wright had the mount on a fast filly named Caesar's Wish, a Maryland-bred who won the Mother Goose-G1, Black Eyed Susan-G2 and finished second in the Coaching Club American Oaks-G1. Caesar's Wish was leading the Alabama-G1 at Saratoga when she suffered a fatal heart attack near the top of the stretch.

"She was dead before she hit the ground," said Wright, who will never forget his fellow jockeys waiting for him back at the room and shielding him from reporters anxious to get his reaction. "These were people who didn't know me. They were a class act."

More than four decades later, mention Wright to someone associated with racing at Charles Town and the odds are 1-5 you will hear a similar sentiment.

"Nobody I've ever seen in any business cared more about what he does than Danny Wright," said Ken Lowe, chairman of the West Virginia Racing Commission, where Wright has worked for 21 years. He officially "retired" as chief steward Dec. 19, though he has agreed to stay on in a fill-in role and remains active at the track.

"I'm not a downtime kind of guy," Wright said.

He has possessed a strong work ethic since his first job shining shoes at a laundry, for which he was paid 50 cents an hour. At 4-foot-7, it was only a matter of time before someone suggested he look into becoming a jockey. He went to Bowie Race Track, where he met trainer Ray Vogelman, who offered him a job on weekends until the school year ended and full-time in the summer.

Wright would hitchhike back and forth to Bowie until he graduated from high school. One of the top scholastic grapplers in the state, he was planning to wrestle at the University of Maryland, but when he found out the lightest weight class in collegiate wrestling was 118, and he was weighing in at 92 pounds, pursuing a career as a jockey became his singular focus.

"I had no visions of ever doing anything else but being a jockey," said Wright, who rode on the Maryland circuit for 27 years. He accepted his first mount in 1967 and his last in 1993. In between, he won more than 2,000 races and rode more than 20,000. Equibase, where statistics go back to 1976, has him for 12,903 mounts and 1,424 wins. The American Racing Manual comes up with 8,056 more mounts and 734 additional victories from 1967-75. That's 20,959 rides and 2,158 wins, but it's not the most exact reporting model and the totals are probably higher. Wright won at least 100 races in a season 12 times and his horses earned more than $16 million.

opportunities that race riding gives you," he said. "It took me all over the U.S. and to Canada. I loved being a jockey."

Wright won 12 graded stakes—seven combined aboard Cormorant and Caesar's Wish and two more with Toes Knows—before calling it a career in 1993, with an assist from Cormorant's trainer, J.P. Simpson.

"He told me he would ride me forever, but he would be retiring soon," Wright said. "He said that people respected me because I always gave 110 percent and had integrity, and that I should consider becoming a steward."

Wright successfully completed the stewardship accreditation program at the University of Louisville. After riding at Pimlico one day, he got a call saying that Atlantic City needed a steward for the summer. He could start the next day.

Wright returned to Maryland three months later, but as he was preparing to work horses for Simpson, the veteran conditioner told him he was fired. "I was 47 years old and it was time to move on," Wright said. "He got me a job in the racing office."

Wright had been serving as a fill-in steward in Maryland for six years—subsidizing his income by working as a chauffeur at night—and was disappointed when he didn't get a full-time job after Jean Chalk retired in 1999. When a position opened in West Virginia he applied and was hired, and has never left.

"Even though I was devastated I didn't get the job, it turned out to be a godsend," he said.

Wright commuted back and forth from Maryland for two years before he and his wife, Linda, settled in Kearneysville, W.Va., with their four children, Jeremy, Jamie, Jason and Jessica. He built an above-reproach reputation as a steward, a job for which his former career eminently prepared him.

"[The jockeys] feel like they're being judged by someone who walks the walk," he said. "I know what to look for and how to be a fair judge from a rider's perspective."

Veteran trainer John McKee, for whom Wright rode more than a quarter-century ago, called Wright a "world-class kind of fella" who "cares about racing and the horses and the people connected with racing."

Wright is a talented builder who writes country and gospel music and makes custom baseball caps that he gives to veterans. He is good at lot of things; complaining isn't one of them.

"Life's been good to me," he said. "Anything I have now, I owe to horse racing. The industry has opened doors for me. The good Lord provides you opportunities; it's a question of whether you take advantage."

This jockey turned steward has answered that question the Wright way.

NOTES: Six horses had won two races in 2021 at Charles Town through Feb. 11, including West Virginia-bred Man of the Night. The 4-year-old Charitable Man gelding won a $12,500 maiden claimer for owner/trainer Javier Contreras Jan. 8 and followed up with an $8,000 conditioned claimer (non-winners of two) Jan. 21. Claimed by Jody Caison out of that start, Man of the Night finished sixth in a deep state-bred allowance Feb. 6 . . . Jeff Runco and Anthony Farrior were off to quick starts among the trainers with 15 wins apiece through Feb. 11, with Farrior winning at 32 percent . . . Taylor Mountain Farm (six wins) led Grams Racing Stable by one in the early owners' standings.

John Forbes

EQUI-PHOTO, INC.

John Hamilton Forbes, who died in January, once told me that his mentor, "Big" John Tammaro, was "more horse than man." He meant that Tammaro could not only think like a horse but he could get inside a specific horse's mind and know exactly what it was thinking and how to help it express its potential on the racetrack. He felt that Tammaro was more instinctual than intellectual.

Forbes was a different kind of horseman, intellectually curious, emotionally sensitive, and driven to excel. A horse trainer to the tips of his Kroops, he was never satisfied to be just a horse trainer.

Here are the numbers; 2,174 wins in 14,681 starts (15 percent win rate); leading trainer at Monmouth Park five times; leading trainer at The Meadowlands seven times; in 1979 John trained the winners of 233 races. That's a career by any standard.

Until 1995 you could be excused for writing John off as a successful claiming trainer with an astute eye and crack staff. He could turn enough profit on horses he claimed to make a bloodstock guy like me wonder why anyone would buy a yearling after watching it walk "up and back." He made allowance horses and some stakes horses out of $40,000 claims, but you never heard anyone say "I wonder what Forbes is using." John's integrity was unquestioned.

John Forbes could also train a horse from scratch. I met him in 1985 when Dixie and I were trying to make a go of the stallion business. Mark McDermott, Timothy Wickes and I had identified a stallion prospect John was training. The horse was Ringside (1980, Sir Ivor—Middle Cornish, by Speak John) a beautifully bred sprinter who had won 11 races, three stakes, including a 6-furlong stakes at Garden State in 1:08.4, through the middle of his 5-year-old campaign. I put together a partnership with the idea that we would race Ringside and then stand him in Pennsylvania and we bought him in mid-July. He proceeded to run four subpar races and I was on the ledge and ready to jump, when John suggested giving him a break. It was the last thing I wanted to hear.

John felt that Ringside would benefit from an easy month and the partners and I grudgingly agreed. Six weeks later Ringside returned to the races and reeled off four wins in a row including the Quaker Handicap at Philadelphia Park where he equaled the track record for 5 furlongs.

The following spring John grudgingly agreed to aim Ringside for the Phoenix Handicap at Keeneland. The partners felt a win at Keeneland would be a big feather in Ringside's cap. We shipped him to Kentucky and he won an allowance prep for the Phoenix. We were ecstatic. The stakes, 12 days later, did not go as well. He never made the lead, where he was most comfortable, and finished fourth. As we were leaving Keeneland, John pulled me aside and thanked me for convincing him to bring the horse to Kentucky. He had received so many congratulatory calls after the earlier win. I had no idea how important an experience it was for him. This from a guy who had won 1,000 races already.

By 1995 John decided it was time to try a different model. He and his long-time assistant, Pat McBurney, organized a partnership among his clients. They called it Phantom House Stables and they went out to buy some yearlings with a team consisting of Forbes, McBurney, pedigree advisor Ed Rosen, and several others. Phantom House bought six horses that first year and four became stakes horses. Apogee won three races and placed in two stakes. Sumija won four races including a stakes. Amarillo won five races including the Delaware Handicap-G3 in a huge upset. The crown jewel of the group was Tale of the Cat. A brilliant miler by Storm Cat out of the Mr. Prospector mare Yarn from the Claiborne family of Pulpit and going back to Monarchy, a full-sister to Round Table. At 3, Tale of the Cat broke his maiden and won a first-level allowance race on home dirt at Monmouth Park in his first two starts. He then traveled to Saratoga to win the 7-furlong King's Bishop-G2. He was also third in the Grade 1 Vosburgh and returned the following year to win allowance races at Monmouth and Saratoga and finish second in the Whitney-G1 and third again in the Vosburgh.

Tale of the Cat, a stone-cold racehorse, was sold for stud duty (for $11.7 million) to Coolmore. Standing at Ashford Stud, he has sired the winners of more than 150 stakes races and the earners of more than $150 million.

Although Tale of the Cat was the apogee of John Forbes' training career, for him there was a second act. In 2010 he became the president of the New Jersey Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association. New Jersey racing was in trouble and John felt he had to help it survive. Garden State was long gone and The Meadowlands was concentrating on harness racing. Monmouth Park was the last, best hope. Gov. Chris Christie decided to get New Jersey out of the racing business. Casinos had been eating racing's lunch for years and were balking at continuing to subsidize the purses at Monmouth.

John, almost singlehandedly, engineered the takeover of the track by the NJTHA and devoted the rest of his life to making New Jersey racing a success. It's safe to say that, absent John Forbes, there would be no Thoroughbred racing in the Garden State.

John was a quiet man who loved to talk. He was analytical, sometimes to a fault, but he never raised his voice in anger. A visit to his tack room was bound to last much longer than intended, but you always left wiser than when you entered.

He bestrode New Jersey racing in its golden age, when the backside was home to great trainers, horsemen and gentlemen; Pierce, Perlsweig, Croll, Thompson and some others. John Forbes' death leaves only Tony Bardaro, in retirement, from that era. Racing everywhere is poorer for the loss. ✸

Maryland Horse Industry Day 2021

HOPE'S LEGACY
a Douglas B. Maddox Film
The Maryland Horse Trials

Even in tough times, Maryland's Horse Industry stays the course.

Though we could not be in-person in Annapolis for Maryland Horse Industry Day this year due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, we are proud that Marylanders are able to benefit from the diverse community that horses provide. Horses offer access to a healthy lifestyle, with lots of fresh air and exercise, and for many much needed emotional and therapeutic support.

To thank the legislature for their ongoing support, this messsage has been sent to the legislature on behalf of the Maryland Horse Industry.

We are proud to share these significant horse industry projects that are well underway, such as:

- Maryland 5 Star at Fair Hill
- New MD Horse Library & Education Center
- Rebirth of Laurel/Pimlico racetracks
- Notable increase in licensed riding facilities

THANK YOU!

Knicks Go

2020 Maryland-bred Horse of the Year Champion Older Male

Gr./ro.h., 2016, by Paynter—Kosmo's Buddy, by Outflanker.
Bred by Angie Moore. Owned by Korea Racing Authority.
Trained by Brad Cox. Foaled at GreenMount Farm, Glyndon.

$1,000,000 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile-G1

Eclipse Sportswire

Knicks Go burst onto the national stage last year at 4 and became one of the biggest stories of the year. Making only three starts, he earned more than any other state-bred after scoring in the $1 million Breeder's Cup Dirt Mile-G1. And he is now a two-time Maryland-bred Horse of the Year.

Owned by Korea Racing Authority, who purchased him as a yearling at the 2017 Keeneland September sale for $87,000, Knicks Go came into 2020 as a horse who had lost his way. At 2, he earned accolades by way of Kentucky when winning the Grade 1 Breeders' Futurity at Keeneland, and using that momentum to take on Game Winner in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile-G1. Knicks Go led until deep stretch and finished second.

A 3-year-old march on the classics looked a foregone conclusion, but it would be more than nine months (and six starts) before he would hit the board again in stakes company, and the rest of 2019 was also a disappointment.

When Knicks Go reappeared at 4 under the care of new trainer Brad Cox, he dominated an Oaklawn Park allowance by 7½ lengths in February. During Covid shutdowns, he was also shut down, sidelined by a bone chip that was removed. Off for nearly four months, he returned to Keeneland in October and proved a monster, setting a track record of 1:40.79 for 1 1/16 miles and winning the allowance by double digits.

Although he had just two allowance wins over the past two years, Knicks Go was sent off as favorite of 12 in the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile-G1 last November at Keeneland. And the result was never in doubt. He set every fraction, repelled all challengers and was geared down as he reached the wire 3½ lengths in front while setting another track record of 1:33.85. He joined the select list of Maryland-bred Breeders' Cup winners–Safely Kept (Sprint, 1990), Concern (Classic, 1994), Cigar (Classic, 1995) and Sharing (Juvenile Fillies Turf, 2019).

The win was worth $520,000, which propelled him beyond the $1 million mark in career earnings. For the year he took home $608,440.

Bred by Angie Moore and her daughter Sabrina Moore and foaled at their GreenMount Farm in the Worthington Valley, Knicks Go is a four-time Renaissance Award winner, adding the 2020 trophies to his 2-year-old male and Horse of the Year crowns of 2018. ❧

$100,000 Maryland Juvenile Futurity

Veterinarians Dr. A. Leonard Pineau and his wife Patricia Bradley have been turning out beautifully bred horses at their Three Pines Farm in the Worthington Valley for decades. Selling commercially, they've watched a number go on to sell for six or seven figures. A recent example is undefeated Jaxon Traveler, a Munnings colt out of Listen Boy sold by Three Pines for $80,000 as a yearling at the Keeneland September sale in 2019 and pinhooked at Ocala the following spring. West Point Thoroughbreds went to $140,000 for the juvenile colt, and in three starts saw the dark bay nearly earn back his purchase price.

Trained by Steve Asmussen and racing for West Point and Marvin Delfiner, Jaxon Traveler made three trips from his New York base to Maryland at 2, and left an impression. He romped by 10 lengths in his debut at Pimlico in September. In his second start, going 6 furlongs at Laurel in October, he won by daylight in 1:09 and change.

Stakes company was next, and he led at every call, holding off Singlino to win the 7-furlong Maryland Juvenile Futurity by nearly a length. Jaxon Traveler's earnings rose to $120,762. He was then shipped south with the Asmussen string to Oaklawn to train over the winter.

Jaxon Traveler is the first Maryland-bred champion for his breeders, who purchased his dam while carrying her second foal (by Street Boss) in November 2015 for $26,000. The mare has four winners from as many foals of racing age. She produced a Street Boss filly in May 2019, has no foal for 2020 and was bred to Cross Traffic for 2021. ❧

Street Lute

2020 Maryland-bred Champion 2-Year-Old Filly

Ch.f., 2018, by Street Magician—Alottalute, by Midnight Lute. Bred by Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowman and Dr. Brooke Bowman.
Owned by Lucky 7 Stables. Trained by John J. Robb.
Foaled at Dance Forth Farm, Chestertown.

$100,000 Small Wonder
$100,000 Smart Halo
2nd Maryland Million Lassie

When Street Lute stepped onto the racing scene, she didn't just win, she made her wins count. All five, four in stakes, to be exact. So it was no surprise when Lucky 7 Stables' daughter of Street Magician took home Maryland-bred honors as champion 2-year-old filly.

Breaking her maiden on debut in early September by a length at Delaware Park, the Jerry Robb trainee kicked it up a notch in her second start to win the Small Wonder, her stakes debut, by 5 lengths. Returning to her home base of Laurel Park in October for the Maryland Million Lassie, Street Lute suffered her only defeat as she finished second as the favorite to Miss Nondescript, by a neck.

Quick to resurrect her win streak, Street Lute hit a stakes triple in the Smart Halo, Maryland Juvenile Filly Championship and Gin Talking.

Purchased for $10,500 as a yearling by Robb at the 2019 Fasig-Tipton fall yearling sale, the 2-year-old chestnut earned $290,220.

Bred by Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowman and Dr. Brooke Bowman, Street Lute is the second foal, and only starter, for the Midnight Lute mare Alottalute, who has since produced the just-turned 2-year-old Alottahope (by Editorial) and a yearling full-sister to the newly minted Maryland-bred champion. ❧

$300,000 Edgewood-G2
$100,000 Tepin
2nd Coronation-G1
3rd American Oaks-G1

With the collection of accolades Sharing gathered in 2019 as Maryland-bred Horse of the Year, turf runner and 2-year-old filly, it's no surprise she'd tackle 2020 with the same fiery talent.

Owned by Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners and Gainesway Stable (Antony Beck), Sharing won two of five starts at 3, including the Edgewood-G2 and Tepin Stakes at Churchill Downs, and finished second in Royal Ascot's Coronation Stakes-G1 and third in the American Oaks-G1 at Santa Anita, which would be her final start. She was voted champion turf runner and champion 3-year-old filly of 2020.

The daughter of Speightstown kicked off the year with a victory in the Tepin in May before making a trip overseas to tackle the Coronation less than a month later. Over a course rated good to soft, she fought hard to finish second.

Back in the states, Sharing returned in September to record her fourth stakes win in the Edgewood before her West Coast campaign.

Following in the footsteps of her dam, Breeders' Cup winner Shared Account also trained by Graham Motion, Sharing became a millionaire with earnings to $1,092,751 in nine starts. It was announced in January that the Sagamore Farm-bred was retired from racing after suffering an injury in a paddock mishap. ❧

2020 Maryland-bred
Champion 3-Year-Old Male

$100,000 Audubon
$100,000 Dania Beach
3rd American Turf-G2,
Twilight Derby-G2, War Chant

Field Pass' sophomore campaign was busy, far-flung and productive as he led all Maryland-breds by stakes wins (five), earned $450,143, and was a three-time graded winner.

Racing primarily on turf for Three Diamonds Farm, the gray son of Lemon Drop Kid trained by Mike Maker launched his year in February, getting his first stakes win in Gulfstream Park's Dania Beach. Next out over Turfway Park's synthetic track in mid-March he won his first graded race, the track's signature classic prep now named the Jeff Ruby Steaks-G3. He stayed in Kentucky for his next three starts which included back-to-back stakes wins in the Audubon at Churchill Downs and the Grade 3 Transylvania at Keeneland.

A trip to Saratoga resulted in his worst finish (seventh) and Grade 2 placings at Churchill and Santa Anita followed. In his second start over a synthetic surface, at Woodbine for the Ontario Derby-G3, he drove home a clear winner. In 10 starts last year, he won five and was third in three others.

Field Pass was bred by New Jersey resident Mark Grier, who foaled his mares in Maryland after breeding in Kentucky for a number of years. Grier raced Field Pass' dam Only Me (by Runaway Groom) and kept her as a broodmare. The dam of two named foals (both winners), she has since been retired from breeding. ❧

Never Enough Time proved things do get better with time as she secured back-to-back stakes wins in the Alma North and Skipat last fall and placed in two more stakes to earn the title of 2020 Maryland-bred champion older female for owner/breeder R. Larry Johnson.

Unraced at 2, the daughter of Munnings won twice at 3 in four starts and tried graded stakes company. It would be more than a year until she took on stakes company again, scoring in Laurel Park's Alma North in her second attempt last September.

During a string of six races at 4, four in stakes, she never finished worse than third and won on a big stage, the Preakness Day undercard at Pimlico in October, when outrunning top sprint mare Bronx Beauty in the Skipat. Never Enough Time also counted a second in the Primonetta Stakes at Laurel and a third in Belmont Park's Pumpkin Pie Stakes.

In eight starts in 2020, the Mike Trombetta trainee won three, with two seconds and a third, and earned $201,131.

Never Enough Time is one of five winners from six starters for Johnson's multiple stakes-placed homebred What Time It Is, a daughter of Maryland-bred champion Partner's Hero. The mare was bred back to Munnings for this year. ❧

Laki

2020 Maryland-bred Champion Sprinter

Ch.g., 2013, by Cuba—Truthful Dutch, by Swear by Dixie. Bred by Tom Michaels and Lorna Baker. Owned by Hillside Equestrian Meadows. Trained by Damon R. Dilodovico. Foaled at Michaels and Baker Farm, Denton.

$200,000 Frank J. De Francis Memorial Dash-G3
$75,000 Oceanport Centennial
2nd Frank Y. Whiteley S, Polynesian

Jim McCue

Laki is now a two-time Renaissance Award winner after a campaign that proved him not only durable but still fast. The Hillside Equestrian Meadows' colorbearer at age 7 recorded his first graded stakes victory when taking the Frank J. De Francis Memorial Dash-G3 at Pimlico on the Preakness Day undercard, and was first or second in six of seven starts on the year.

Not making his 2020 debut until July, the Damon Dilodovico trainee annexed the Oceanport Centennial Stakes at Monmouth Park at 5 furlongs. Racing at least once a month through the end of the year, he was always in the thick of it, but the De Francis Dash was by far his career highlight. Squeezed, checked, sent wide and having to make up ground, he got up to win in the final strides by a slimmest of noses.

Last year was his richest in five years of competition, as he earned $241,030 of his career total $709,662.

A previous two-time MATCH Series champion in the 3-Year-Olds and Up Dirt Sprint division, Laki was bred by Tom Michaels and Lorna Baker, and is a son of the late Not For Love stallion Cuba, who stood in Maryland. In 30 starts through 2020, Laki never ran beyond 7 furlongs, but his previous Renaissance Award was for champion older male in 2018; that year's 3-year-old champion Still Having Fun earned sprint honors. ❧

2020 MHBA Stallion of the Year:
GREAT NOTION

For the fifth consecutive year Great Notion is recognized as Maryland's Stallion of the Year.

The leader in the state in nearly every category in 2020–earnings by all runners, earnings by 2-year-olds, number of overall winners and by number of wins–he also led by number of stakes winners, with six. Four came on the same day as he joined a select group of stallions to sire as many on a single Maryland Million Day card.

Great Notion had stakes winners last year from his crop of 2-year-olds (Kenny Had a Notion), 3-year-olds (Karan's Notion), 4-year-olds (Pretty Good Year and Epic Idea), 5-year-olds (What the Beep) and 6-year-olds (Anna's Bandit). His West Virginia-bred daughter Anna's Bandit, who has won or placed in 20 stakes in 36 career starts, became his richest runner last year when pushing her earnings to $782,655.

Now 21 years old, Great Notion, a son of Elusive Quality, has stood his entire career at Northview Stallion Station in Chesapeake City.

2020 MHBA Broodmare of the Year:
LOVE'S REASON

A 13-year-old daughter of Not For Love, Love's Reason has produced a succession of stakes performers for Richard Golden's Sycamore Hall Thoroughbreds LLC and Ellen Charles' Hillwood Stables since her first foal arrived in 2013.

The best runner to date is her now 6-year-old daughter Majestic Reason, Maryland-bred champion older mare of 2019 who made only one start in 2020, but it was glorious, a dominant victory in Laurel Park's Grade 3 Barbara Fritchie Stakes–her first graded win and third stakes win overall before she was retired as a broodmare herself.

Love's Reason's earlier two foals are stakes-placed runners Jump for Love and Good Reasoning. All five of her foals of racing age have started, four are winners, including the 2020 3-year-old gelding Artistic Reason. Love's Reason herself was a stakes winner, when taking the 2010 Maryland Juvenile Filly Championship.

2020 MHBA Breeder of the Year:
ANGIE MOORE

Quality over quantity. Angie Moore took that to the extreme in 2020 as Grade 1 winner and eventual Maryland-bred Horse of the Year Knicks Go delivered a Breeder of the Year award.

The now 5-year-old won all three of his 2020 starts, topped by the Grade 1 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile in November. The son of Paynter earned $608,440 while becoming just the fifth Maryland-bred to win a Breeders' Cup race.

Foaled at GreenMount Farm in Glyndon, the boarding/sales farm Moore owns with her daughter Sabrina, Knicks Go comes from a long line of Maryland-breds. His dam Kosmo's Buddy (by Outflanker) was a two-time stakes winner before being claimed by Moore for $40,000 in September 2010. The mare was sold privately in late 2018.

Moore-bred horses made 44 starts in 2020 with 10 wins and $754,165 in earnings.

Other Renaissance Awards

A collaboration of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association, Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association and the Maryland Jockey Club, the Renaissance Awards honor the best of Thoroughbred racing in the state. Other award winners for 2020 include:

Owner–Robert Bone

Horses owned by Robert Bone won 30 races at Maryland tracks in 2020, and they finished second 15 times and third 14 times. That success fueled his Maryland earnings of $981,000. Bone captured the Laurel Park summer meet owner's title with 14 victories from 42 starters.

Bone, based in California, expanded his operation to the Mid-Atlantic several years ago because of lower costs, purse structure and opportunities given the number of racetracks. In Maryland, his trainer is Claudio Gonzalez.

Known primarily for claiming horses, Bone had two stakes winners in Maryland in 2020, both trained by Gonzalez. Maryland-bred Eastern Bay, claimed for $35,000 in February, won the Polynesian Stakes at Laurel in September, and two days later Completed Pass won the Laurel Dash.

Trainer – Claudio Gonzalez

Claudio Gonzalez captured the training title at every meet in Maryland in 2020 and racked up 101 wins – more than half his overall total of 171 for the year. In addition, he won 10 stakes with six horses in Maryland, his highest one-year total.

Gonzalez, who stables at Laurel Park, trained Harpers First Ride, a Maryland-bred Horse of the Year finalist who won four stakes including the Grade 3 Pimlico Special. Claimed by Gonzalez for $30,000 in Kentucky in September 2019, Harpers First Ride won seven races in 2020 and earned almost $500,000.

Lebda, a 3-year-old last year, captured the Miracle Wood and Private Terms at Laurel. Other Maryland stakes winners were Completed Pass, Eastern Bay, Miss Leslie and Princess Cadey.

Gonzalez has won three Renaissance Awards as Trainer of the Year after being recognized in 2017 and 2018.

Jockey – Trevor McCarthy

Trevor McCarthy set the tone for a successful 2020 when he captured the riding title at the Covid-shortened Laurel Park winter meet with 38 victories. He also led the short Preakness meet at Pimlico with nine wins, won 27 times during the Laurel summer meet – he left early to ride at Colonial Downs – and found the winner's circle 25 times during the Laurel fall meet.

McCarthy, who left Maryland in late fall to ride in New York, won his first Renaissance Award in 2019, when he won 170 races in Maryland under a full racing schedule. In 2020 his total was 99 in-state and 143 overall. His mounts earned more than $5.4 million, $3.7 million in Maryland. He won 11 stakes in Maryland with 11 horses, and registered two three-baggers – Virginia-bred stakes day Oct. 9 and Maryland Million day Oct. 24.

MTHA Unsung Hero Award – Victor Carrasco

A top jockey in Maryland, Victor Carrasco was recognized for his behind-the-scenes work with backstretch workers at Laurel and Pimlico. The 28-year-old was a hot walker and groom in his native Puerto Rico before becoming a jockey, and hasn't forgotten.

"I grew up on the backstretch back home," he said. I know how it feels and I know hard it can get. Here in Maryland, especially with this weather, they work through the cold. Sometimes they don't get the credit they deserve. People don't realize that grooms, exercise riders and hot walkers are the ones living with the horses ever day. The real MVP of every winner's circle photo is the groom."

Pimlico Backstretch Employee of the Year – Edgar Gallegos

Edgar Gallegos, 27, is a native of Mexico who has worked in the racing industry for about eight years at Maryland tracks. He worked for Horacio de Paz and Mary Eppler before joining the Brittany Russell team.

Laurel Backstretch Employee of the Year – Antonio Lopez Salazar

Part of the team at trainer Phil Schoenthal's barn since 2014, Antonio Lopez Salazar has worked with stakes winners Sonny Inspired and Elevated Vision in a career of about 20 years in racing. He previously worked for trainer Leo Nechamkin.

Maryland-bred Stakes Winner

Hello Hot Rod drives home in Jimmy Winkfield Stakes

Making his stakes debut for owners Brittany Russell and Dark Horse Racing in Aqueduct's $100,000 Jimmy Winkfield Stakes for 3-year-olds Jan. 31, Hello Hot Rod led throughout and dug in to win by a head over Maryland-bred Return the Ring.

Making his fourth start, and first away from his home base of Laurel Park, the dark bay from the first crop of Country Life Farm stallion Mosler broke from the inside and moved to the front under encouragement from Trevor McCarthy. While Return the Ring chased in second from the outside, with favorite Pico d'Oro third, the Russell trainee led through an opening quarter-mile in :23.86 and half in :48.16. As they rounded the far turn, Return the Ring breathed down the leader's neck and Pico d'Oro rallied, but all efforts were in vain as Hello Hot Rod hit the wire first in 1:26.30 for 7 furlongs.

Less than a week later, Russell entered the colt in the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky winter mixed sale, and he topped all racing prospects when sold to George Sharp for $335,000.

"This is a business and it just seemed like sort of a good business move after winning the stake up there," Russell said before the sale. "I have some friends between Fasig and [consignor] ELiTE sales and I thought it was a good move."

The colt was purchased as a yearling by Dark Horse Racing and Russell for $10,000 at the 2019 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic fall sale, and earned $113,941 from four starts, with three wins and a second, before being sold.

Hello Hot Rod made his debut last October in a 6-furlong waiver maiden, where he finished second by a neck. Just a couple weeks later, he broke his maiden going 7 furlongs, winning by 4¼ lengths. The success continued as he stepped up to allowance company in December and, stretched out to a mile, defeated eventual stakes winner Shackqueenking in 1:38.38.

Hello Hot Rod is the second stakes winner for Mosler, and the stallion's top performer. Bred by Hillwood Stables, Hello Hot Rod is a half-brother to five-time stakes winner Hello Beautiful (Golden Lad), the first two winners for their dam Hello Now. A daughter of Tiznow, Hello Now has three starters of racing age. Her 2-year-old is a colt by Golden Years named Surprise Hello, and she delivered a full-sister to Hello Beautiful Feb. 10.

John Forbes passes away

John Hamilton Forbes, a top trainer on the New Jersey circuit for four decades and the president of the New Jersey Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, passed away Jan. 31 after a battle with cancer. He was 73.

"John was New Jersey racing," said Dennis Drazin, chairman and CEO of Darby Development LLC, operators of Monmouth Park Racetrack. "He was a tireless advocate for the industry, for the horsemen and for Monmouth Park.

"With a boundless capacity for kindness, John embodied everything good about this business – honor, integrity, compassion and selflessness. More than that, John had an infectious energy for racing. I will forever cherish our many years working together and appreciate not just our friendship but our collective effort on behalf of the horsemen to better this industry and the lives of those who work in it."

Forbes won more than 2,100 races from over 14,000 starters, most of them with his longtime assistant Pat McBurney at his side.

"I came around the racetrack when I was 15, 16 and he was like a father to me," said McBurney. "Over the course of many, many years, he became like a brother and a best friend. It's a very sad time. He loved this sport. He had a great gift of gab and a great way with people. If he got a hold of an idea that he thought was right he just wouldn't let it go, no matter who he had to go up against. John and I spent decades together experiencing all the highs and lows that this business has to offer. It was always a team effort with John. Even after he stopped training on a day-to-day basis he was equally involved as an owner, advisor and most importantly, a friend. It's hard to imagine Monmouth Park without John, but Monmouth Park will forever be better because of John."

Forbes thrived after moving to New Jersey. He was the leading trainer at Monmouth five times and topped the standings at the Meadowlands seven times. In 1978, he won 109 races and followed that up with a career-best 233 in 1979.

Forbes dealt mainly with claimers through much of his career but proved he could win at the highest levels when given an opportunity.

In 1995, Forbes and McBurney formed a limited partnership, Phantom House Stables, that raised nearly $2 million to purchase yearlings. The most successful among the group was Tale of the Cat, who won five of his nine career starts including the King's Bishop Stakes-G2 at Saratoga in 1997 and who was second in the Whitney-G1. Purchased for $375,000 at Keeneland September, the son of Storm Cat was sold for $11.7 million and has been a successful sire at Coolmore Stud in Lexington, Ky. Of the six horses they purchased that year, four became stakes winners, including Amarillo, winner of the Delaware Handicap-G3, Sumija and Apogee.

Forbes stepped back from training in 2012 to focus on horsemen's issues, and McBurney took over the stable.

He had been named president of the New Jersey Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association in 2010, after having helped to launch the umbrella organization, the THA, comprised of six states in the mid-1990s. "The whole process was really about trying to get an organization where everyone had an equal voice, and to address

Applications now being accepted for the NJ Agricultural Achievement Award

Scholarship for H.S. Seniors Interested in a Career in Agriculture or the Sciences

New Jersey residents who are entering their senior year in high school this fall and are planning a career in agriculture or science may apply for the New Jersey Agricultural Achievement Award. One winner will be selected and awarded a scholarship to honor their achievements.

The New Jersey Agricultural Achievement Award, sponsored by Dr. Amy Butewicz, a former New Jersey Equestrian of the Year, was started because of her desire to give back to the community. Worth $500, this scholarship is meant to assist its recipient in beginning their future in agriculture.

The qualifications for receiving this award include submitting an application, found here www.jerseyequine.nj.gov/agachievementapplform.pdf, a resume along with an essay answering the question, "How has your involvement within your respective nominating organization helped to shape your future career choice?"

In addition, a contestant is required to be a current, active member of an organization either on the New Jersey Equine Advisory Board and/or represented at the Youth Reception portion of the New Jersey State Agricultural Convention. Each organization on the New Jersey Equine Advisory Board and a participant of the State Agricultural Convention is able to nominate a maximum of two contestants.

The winner of the Agricultural Achievement Award must attend the awards ceremony Wednesday, June 16, 2021, at the Horse Park of New Jersey at 4 p.m. Light refreshments will be served.

Please mail application, resume and essay by May 15, 2021, to:

President's message

Congratulations to Clint Lowry, James Jone, and Bradley Graham for their horse's wins. Cheers to all those who had their horses run in a race. We all know what it takes to get there.

Member Art Bauer's 5-year-old mare Girl On a Mission (by Noble Mission [GB]) delivered a North Carolina-bred filly by Klimt Jan. 16. The mare is Galileo's granddaughter, who is the world's most expensive stud and has been for years. The dam's sire not only procreated Code of Honor, but he is also a full brother to undefeated European champion Frankel. Noble Mission (GB) recently relocated to Japan for the 2021 breeding season residing at Shizunai Stallion Station.

Klimt is the fastest Grade 1-winning colt by Quality Road and covered over 581 at mares at Darby Dan in his first three books. We will be seeing his first crop of 2-year-olds race this year. It seems Art's new filly's pedigree is impressive, indeed. I wish him the most incredible luck with her.

I'd appreciate it if any of our members will send me their foal pictures. I delight in seeing them and including them in our newsletter. A fondness for foals is universal. Help spread the joy, and send those photos, please!

Racing Recap

Cayenne Creek (Misremembered out of Hot Creek Risin', by Bring the Heat) won at Charles Town Races Jan. 6 for breeders Dr. and Mrs. Clint Lowry. The 5-year-old West Virginia-bred went 7 furlongs on the dirt in 1:27.18. Winning four of his last five races and placing second in the one directly preceding this win, the gelding continues to impress. He stalked the pace into the backstretch, went three-wide near the five-sixteenths pole gaining, pressed the pace around the far turn, digging in by the eighth pole, and got the lead in the final strides to win by 1¼ lengths.

Bella Aurora (Carpe Diem out of Street Interest, by Street Cry-Ire) won the $100,000 Interborough Stakes at Aqueduct Jan. 18 for the owner in partnership, James Jones. The 4-year-old chestnut filly ran 7 furlongs on a fast, dirt track in 1:25.63.

backstretch, grabbed the lead inside around the turn, went three-wide at the top of the stretch, merged into the two-path running down the stretch, moved to the inside as she took the lead near the finish, and won under a drive by a length.

Royalbonnielegacy (Include out of Royal Bonnie, by Yankee Gentleman) won at Tampa Bay Downs Jan. 23 for partner owner Bradley Graham. The New York-bred filly ran the mile and 40 yards on a fast dirt track in 1:42.19, The 6-year-old mare broke first, angled inside and tracked the pacesetter early, was drawn back to trail the pack near the far turn, angled out to the five-path at the top of the stretch, started closing in, picking off foes to win at the line by ¾ lengths.

From Rough Start to Stakes Winner

by Linda Dougherty

To say that Arrowwood Farm's Pennsylvania-bred Jakarta had a rough start in life is probably something of an understatement.

At age 5, she had the best campaign of her career in 2020, in which she won two added-money events at Gulfstream Park including the Claiming Crown Distaff Dash. She overcame long odds to become the talented campaigner she is today.

It all began when Tom Coulter, who owns 250-acre Arrowwood Farm in York Springs, Pa., with his wife, Susan, bought the Stormello mare T J's Stormy Wit in foal to Bustin Stones at the 2014 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic December sale for $2,500.

"I liked Bustin Stones, and I thought the mare would work well with our local Pennsylvania stallions," said Coulter.

But when T J's Stormy Wit went into labor the night of Feb. 1, 2015, what started as a routine foaling soon turned out to be an emergency situation for Coulter and his staff.

They watched as T J's Stormy Wit immediately rejected the newly born Jakarta.

"The mare savaged the foal—she tried to kill her," recalled Coulter. "It was a very difficult situation."

Layne Shaffer, Arrowwood's farm manager, agreed.

"The minute the mare got up, she violently rejected the foal," she said. "For a couple of days, working with veterinarians, we tried different things to get the mare to accept her, but nothing worked. Eventually we were able to get an Appaloosa nurse mare."

To make matters worse, the pasterns in the filly's hind legs were so lax that her toes were pointed up, which made walking and nursing problematic.

"It was almost to the point that she was walking on her ankles," said Coulter.

Thanks to corrective surgery and shoeing, Jakarta progressed nicely over the next few months and soon became a farm favorite.

"Everybody loved her," said Shaffer. "She was the first foal born that year, and we all became attached to her."

Shaffer said that Jakarta didn't especially stand out among others in her crop, calling her "very unassuming and quiet." Little nagging problems here and there delayed her first start until June of her 4-year-old year; she then had to deal with a habit of breaking badly from the starting gate.

The filly was, however, able to overcome a troubled start in her career debut at Penn National on June 9, 2019, to win by 10 lengths. The chart footnote read, "Jakarta was reluctant to load, broke in the air, moved clear before going a quarter … and widened under a hand ride."

"I cried when she won," admitted Shaffer.

However, although Jakarta was able to exorcise her gate demons that day, she wasn't so lucky in her next three starts in allowance company, all of which were compromised by tardy beginnings.

Coulter and his trainer, Rodrigo Madrigal Sr., decided to drop the filly in for a claiming tag, and she was haltered for $16,000 by trainer Brandon L. Kulp and owner Joe Besecker on Aug. 31, 2019, in her sixth start.

For Besecker, Jakarta won three out of four starts, twice in allowance company, at Penn National. Then, as part of a dispersal, Besecker sold her at the 2019 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic December mixed sale for $35,000 to Three Diamonds Farm.

Currently under the tutelage of trainer Mike Maker, Jakarta has blossomed into a stakes performer with a new affinity for the turf. Making her first start for Maker in March 2020, she went gate-to-wire in a 5-furlong allowance on the Gulfstream lawn. Still in Florida she made her stakes debut next out and scored by 2¼ lengths in the off-the-turf Powder Break at 1 mile. Shipped to New York, she placed in the Caress Stakes at Saratoga, a 5½ furlong turf dash in which she squared off against horses from top stables in the country and ran her highest-ever Equibase speed figure. She won a starter allowance by 2 lengths at Kentucky Downs, then was beaten but a length by Grade 1 winner Got Stormy in the Grade 3 Buffalo Trace Franklin County Stakes on the Keeneland turf course.

Jakarta's lifetime record stands at eight wins, three seconds and two thirds from 19 starts, with earnings of $336,706.

Arrowwood Farm has ranked among the top 10 breeder award recipients from the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association for the last five years. Coulter, an actuary by trade who also owns a consulting company, knew at a young age that he wanted to own a Thoroughbred farm and breed to race.

"Growing up, I was a fan of the sport and started out reading the Daily Racing Form and gambling, but what I really liked to read were stories of all the stables that bred and raced their own horses. That's what I wanted to do," he said.

In 1995, Coulter bought his first broodmare, and eventually, when his broodmare band grew, decided to buy his own farm in Pennsylvania, where the breeding program also had just started growing by leaps and bounds.

"The farm was just corn and soybeans when we bought it," he said. "The first year, we planted grass. The second year, we built the barn, and the third year we put up the fencing. Now we're building a house on the property."

Arrowwood has become a very successful bred-to-race operation, just as Coulter had dreamed. Currently, 19 broodmares are domiciled at the York Springs nursery; young horses are sent to Rentz Farm in South Carolina for their breaking and early training. From there, they go to the Penn National barn of Coulter's longtime conditioner Madrigal to begin their racing careers.

"I have a master spreadsheet with 88 horses on it, although at one time I had as many as 110," said Coulter. "This way I keep track of where they are, where they are going next, and other information. I update the spreadsheet once a week and usually everything changes."

For Coulter, Madrigal has won more than 250 races. Some of Arrowwood's best horses include Maryland Million Lassie winner Item ($210,519); stakes-placed Jumpmaster ($234,264), and multiple allowance winner Early One Morning ($275,118).

From 2016 to 2020, Coulter's horses earned him the leading money-winning owner crown at Penn National. Despite last year's abbreviated race meet due to Covid-19 cancellations, Coulter again won the title with earnings of $401,901, just $56,935 more than runnerup Robert A. Derr. Previously, in 2019, the Coulter stable collected $879,919.

Each year, Coulter and Shaffer decide which stallions the broodmares will be bred to. Generally, half will be bred to Pennsylvania stallions, and half to those based in Kentucky.

"We don't use 'nicks' at all," said Coulter. "We look at the physicals of both the sire and the mare, and try to make a match. This way, we've had very good results. We also try to go to Kentucky once a year and look at all the stallions we're interested in."

Because Coulter is breeding to race, he likes stallions that have a proven track record, rather than freshman sires. Among those that stood in Pennsylvania that he patronized were Petionville and Jump Start.

All in all, the Coulters have a very busy but rewarding operation at Arrowwood, which is fueled by the earnings of the racing stable as well as by Pennsylvania breeders awards.

"The Pennsylvania program has been good to us for many years," said Coulter. "There's year-round racing, and a good amount of restricted races. It's a program that enables you to make a profit."

A message from the Executive Secretary

Once again, Governor Wolf has proposed cutting $199 million from the Race Horse Development Trust Fund. Let me begin by saying that this is only a proposal and is very unlikely to gain any traction in the House or the Senate. This same proposal failed to gain any meaningful support last year. This move is illegal and we are confident that the RHDTF will withstand this assault, but we must take every attack on the fund very seriously.

I would like to refer you to the following sections of the Trust language:

S1405.1 Protection of the Fund – Daily assessments collected or received by the department under section 1405 (relating to the Pennsylvania Race Horse Development Trust Fund) are not funds of the State.

S1405.1 – The Commonwealth shall not be rightfully entitled to any money described under this section and sections 1405 and 1406.

Our Equine Coalition is made up of Breeder and Horsemen organizations throughout Pennsylvania, both Thoroughbred and Standardbred. We are hard at work with the best lobbying firms in the state to prevent this injustice from happening but we're going to need your help!

If you're involved in our program and are a resident of PA, please contact your Representative and Senator and tell them your specific story, and if possible, ask others that you may know in our business to share their stories.

An additional call or email to the Governor's office would also be extremely helpful. Many of these communications have already been sent. If you are not a PA resident, please contact the Governor by phone or email to explain your involvement and investment in Pennsylvania and displeasure with his proposal.

Our racing industry relies on farms and other businesses to operate on a daily basis. Feed, hay and straw, vets, blacksmiths, tack, equipment and many other services. Our mark reaches to every corner of the state! Please ask them to contact their legislators as they also have a vested interest.

I understand that this action by the Governor has again caused great undue stress as we move into the breeding season. We want you to know that many of the legislators already contacted (both Democrats and Republicans) have given us their unwavering support and have said they will not let this happen. Pennsylvania is one of the leading breeding states in the country and with your help we will keep it that way! Go PA!

OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER MARCH 2021

Racing Across the Nation

The year 2020 ended, and 2021 began with seven horses who prepared for their racing careers in South Carolina finding the winner's circle following stakes races between Dec. 20 and Jan. 20.

Sir Anthony, conditioned by Tony Mitchell in Aiken last winter, captured the H. Allen Jerkens Stakes Dec. 26 at Gulfstream Park. In this 2-mile turf marathon, Sir Anthony raced mid-pack for the opening 1½ miles. He then made the lead inside the eighth-pole and won by three-quarters of a length.

On the same day at Laurel Park in Maryland, No Cents extended his winning streak to four in the Heft Stakes for 2-year-olds. Having gone through the breaking process at Travis Durr's Webb Carroll Training Center, No Cents had two beaten early on in the race. He battled with a few others in the stretch and prevailed by a neck.

Another Durr graduate, Miss Leslie, captured her third win in a row in the Anne Arundel County Stakes for 2-year-old fillies also at Laurel Park Dec. 26. Sixth after the first half-mile, she came four-wide into the stretch and showed good courage approaching the wire splitting rivals putting her head in front just before the finish line.

Hembree has won three stakes during his career. He kicked off the year by finishing first in the Joe Hernandez Stakes at Santa Anita Jan. 1. Hembree trailed the field down the backstretch. Taking an inside path, he picked up his pace approaching the stretch, passing the field and reaching the wire three-quarters of a length in front. Hembree has made 41 career starts, winning nine and earning $927,371. He too is a product of the Webb Carroll Training Center program.

Advice from Coley Blind

Hearing of Coley Blind's retirement as stakes coordinator for the Maryland Jockey Club brings back memories of the 2013 Kentucky Derby. I was Vice President of Cot Campbell's Dogwood Stable, and we had Palace Malice running in the Derby.

I watched the race while standing in the paddock by Mr. Blind. Palace Malice broke like a shot. When the hooves of the horses behind him hit the muddy sealed surface, it sounded like rapid machine gun fire.

Jockey Mike Smith tried every trick he knew but was unable to restrain Palace Malice. He ran the opening six furlongs in 1:09.80! Understandably, he tired from his efforts. After the race, Coley turned to me and said, "You know, the Pimlico surface favors speed horses!"

Palace Malice skipped the Preakness and won the Belmont Stakes sitting off the pace the opening mile.

Racing Across the Nation

Manny Wah came from last in the Duncan F. Kenner Stakes at Fair Grounds Jan. 16. Flying down the stretch he hit the wire 1¼ lengths in front. Manny Wah learned his early lessons at Franklin "Goree" Smith's Elloree Training Center. In 23 career starts, he has finished in the top three 16 times and has earnings totaling $501,888.

On the same card, another Elloree Training Center graduate, Logical Myth, won the Colonel E.R. Bradley Stakes. This followed his victory in the Buddy Diliberto Stakes at the same location Dec. 19. In the Colonel E.R. Bradley, Logical Myth stalked the pace before showing his superiority in the stretch extending his lead to 2¼ lengths at the finish.

In New York, Bella Aurora proved best in the Interborough Stakes at Aqueduct Jan. 18. Last until approaching the stretch, Bella Aurora went by them all in the final quarter mile and won by a length. She was prepared for her racing career by longtime South Carolina trainer Wes Carter.

Nearly $1.8 Million In Certified Residency Awards Given Out In 2020

Virginia's Certified Residency program took another big step forward last year, paying out a record $1.77 million in rewards versus $1.35 million a year prior despite a Covid-19 pandemic that limited racing opportunities in spring and saw reduced purse levels in some cases.

A total of 486 wins in 2020 came from 328 individual horses, versus respective numbers of 338 and 212 in the prior.

"These are exciting times to do business in Virginia," said VTA Executive Director Debbie Easter. "This is the most lucrative of the three year-round incentive programs we offer. Despite the issues everyone faced in a challenging year, we still distributed almost $1.8 million in residency awards. And we expect that to grow that to $3.1 million in 2021. Historical horse racing revenues have just started kicking in as well so there is lots of growth still to come. It's exciting," she added. "Doing business in Virginia really pays right now."

The average Certified win award was $3,644. 173 bonuses went to 4-year-old horses, 257 to 3-year-olds and 56 to 2-year-olds. 225 of the 486 wins came in West Virginia, tops among the Mid-Atlantic states. 104 came in Pennsylvania, 87 in Maryland, 36 in New York, 19 in Delaware, 10 in New Jersey and 5 in Virginia, but the 2020 Colonial Downs meet was cancelled after six days due to Covid-related issues.

Top owner from bonus monies paid out was Taylor Mountain Farm, with $80,160. They had six horses earn multiple awards topped by Rush to the Castle with four. The 5-year-old Windsor Castle gelding won four straight allowance races at Charles Town.

Runner-up John Casey bankrolled $62,658 in bonuses led by Coach Rube, a 4-year-old Windsor Castle filly who had four wins at Charles Town. Three of those came in consecutive allowance events during August and September.

Four stakes wins by Maryland-bred Street Lute pushed Lucky 7 Stables' reward total to $46,000, third best. After breaking her maiden September 7 at Delaware, the 3-year-old Street Magician filly won the Small Wonder Stakes there, then captured the Gin Talking, Sweet Halo and Maryland Juvenile Filly Championship Stakes at Laurel.

Huntertown Farm's Star of Night was the winningest Certified horse with six, all at Charles Town, which resulted in $43,488 in bonus monies. The 4-year-old Creative Cause filly was 6-for-7, and her only blemish was in an allowance race where she lost by a head. She finished the year with three stakes victories in the Sylvia Bishop Memorial, West Virginia Tourism Office Breeders Classic and My Sister Pearl Stakes.

O'Sullivan Farms finished fifth in the bonus standings courtesy of a big year from their 5-year-old Midshipman mare, Dubai Was Lit. The consistent West Virginia-bred, responsible for much of the $41,818 in awards, won a four-pack of allowance races at Charles Town.

Other Certified horses that won $100,000 stakes, and capped $10,000 awards, included Larry Johnson's Never Enough Time who won a pair --- the Alma North at Laurel and Skipat at Pimlico. Corrales Racing's Air Token won five races, highlighted by the Concern Stakes. Others at Laurel included Karan's Notion in the Maryland Million Sprint Handicap for Nancy Heil, and Miss Leslie in the Anne Arundel County Stakes for BB Horses. Eddie F's Racing's Chowda captured the Gander Stakes at Aqueduct.

Two others earned a capped award from maiden special weight wins in New York. A One A Racing's Apurate was best October 22 at Belmont while Woodslane Farm's Wolfie's Dynaghost crossed first November 14 at Aqueduct.

$300,000 In Bonus Monies Awarded to Owners of Virginia-Bred & Sired Horses Via the Mid-Atlantic Incentive Program

Nearly $300,000 in bonus monies was awarded to owners of Virginia-bred and sired horses in 2020 courtesy of the VTA's Mid-Atlantic Incentive program. A total of 57 owners, whose horses won at tracks in the Mid-Atlantic region, shared $299,574.75.

Top award of $30,000 went to Chester & Mary Broman, whose Virginia-sired homebred Mr. Buff --- with career earnings of $1,295,786 --- had a trio of stakes victories in 2020. The 7-year-old New York-bred prevailed in the Empire Classic Handicap, Haynesfield and Jazil Stakes. The 7-year-old gelding is by Friend or Foe, who stands at Robin Mellen's Smallwood Farm in Crozet.

Louis Ulman and Neil Glasser's Kenny Had a Notion's three wins translated into a $16,000 reward. The 3-year-old Great Notion gelding, bred by Althea Richards, had victories in a maiden special weight at Delaware and in the Maryland Million Nursery and Jamestown Stakes at Laurel.

Sir Rockport's six wins, as an 8-year-old, provided the Sola Dei Gloria Stable with $14,100 in reward monies. The ageless Rockport Harbor gelding won four at Penn National and one each at Monmouth and Laurel. Bred by Legacy Farm and Larry Johnson, Sir Rockport has recorded 12 wins in the past 24 months.

New Farm in Marlton, New Jersey had two nice wins with their 4-year-old Summer Front gelding, Reconvene, which triggered a $13,762 bonus. Both victories came at Monmouth and were maiden special weight and allowance scores. Reconvene was bred by Lazy Lane Farms.

Rounding out the top five was Gillian Gordon-Moore and a trio of co-owners who earned $11,835 in awards courtesy of Great Camanoe's two wins last year. The 4-year-old Tonalist gelding, bred by Corner Farm and Patrick Lawley Wakelin, won a maiden special weight at Delaware and an allowance at Laurel.

In adition to the Certified Residency and Mid-Atlantic Owners Bonus programs, an additional $1 Million in bonus monies in Virginia-bred and stallion awards was distributed via the Virginia Breeders Fund. It was shared by 32 different breeders which came from 137 winning horses. For more details on all three incentive programs, visit vabred.org.

Fiber Sonde: MVP for Beau Ridge Farm

By Jeff Gilleas

> "The horse. Here is nobility without conceit, friendship without envy, beauty without vanity. A willing servant, yet never a slave."
> Ronald Duncan

This time of year, sports enthusiasts, especially those consumed by football, utilize every waking moment to deliberate over who was the optimum, unsurpassed, most valuable player on their respective teams.

Breeding farms are no different. They evaluate aging talent, critique unspoiled candidates and deal-off less appealing alternatives, as they brace for the upcoming season; hoping to maximize financial returns. Like a favorable state development program, a successful stallion can be the lifeblood of a farm; initiating a trickle-down effect from conception to racing productiveness.

In West Virginia no sire has proven more valuable to an industry and its owners than Fiber Sonde. Purchased in 2007, for a mere $8,000, Fiber Sonde is a half-brother to champion Speightstown and has reigned supreme as the state's leading sire in 2018-19 and had a stranglehold on 2020.

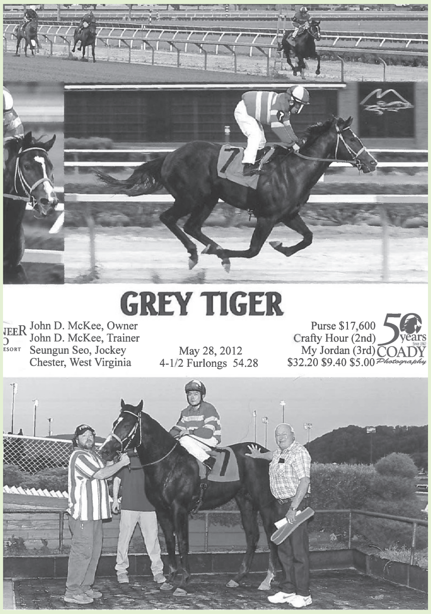
Stamping his offspring with genetic gifts of speed and stamina, broodmares that possess Indian Charlie blood (Late Night Pow Pow, Ghost Canyon) seem to magnify his effectiveness. Any given evening TVG, with it's bevy of announcers/handicappers, reminds a nationwide audience of the essence of John and Cyndy McKee's family heirloom.

A prime example of the branding that Fiber Sonde passes on to many of his progeny occurred in the third race Jan. 20. The allowance/optional claiming event drew a field of seven seasoned runners, with five sired by the economical Beau Ridge Farm stallion. From the rail out there were half-brothers Best Shot ($124,000) and Sagebrush ($164,000), out of Remy Doodles; Freedom Is Ringing ($120,000), out of Longwalk Freedom; Fiber and Emily ($139,000), out of Crafty Emily; and Dionysus' Chalice ($188,000), out of Athena Grand. Sagebrush powered between rivals late to earn a spartan victory for owner Grams Racing Stable and breeders Tim and Judy Grams.

Approximately an hour after the official sign was lit and Sagebrush had been cooled-out, a further testament to Fiber Sonde's dominion materialized in his daughter, Bridging the Gap ($229,000), as she handily defeat a stellar group of allowance fillies and mares. Last year's winner of the Cavada Stakes is owned and trained by John McKee and seemed to thrive in the near 30 degree temperatures.

At 16 years old, Fiber Sonde, an unraced son of Unbridled's Song out of Silken Cat, by Storm Cat, now faces his greatest challenge–time. Horses generally don't become senile or physically frail as elderly human beings, but their bodies can undergo significant changes. Fertility issues, predominantly a low sperm count, has long been rumored to be an ongoing battle that Fiber Sonde contends with. According to Cyndy this condition has been addressed at Rood and Riddle Equine Hospital and more recently at Equine Reproduction Concepts.

Extraordinary racehorses carry enormous expectations to the breeding shed. In the case of Fiber Sonde, having never started placed even greater pressure on John and Cyndy, but their faith in the family lineage of Speightstown and dominance of Silken Cat has ultimately paid handsome dividends.



Grey Tiger was Fiber Sonde's first starter, winning his debut as a 2-year-old at Mountaineer Park in 2012.

I sat down with John and Cyndy McKee to review the past, present and future of the horse oft referred to as the Beau Ridge Farm Franchise.

John: "We went to Kentucky with the specific intentions on purchasing Fiber Sonde. I have always been a proponent of speed and loved the opportunity to stand a half-brother to Speightstown in West Virginia, while Cyndy was thrilled to have a sire whose dam was a champion and produced a champion."

Cyndy: "The urgency to reveal if Fiber Sonde would be a flip or flop was quickly answered by his first two foals–Grey Tiger and Dixieland Silk. Both horses made their debuts at Mountaineer Park [2012], winning by daylight margins. It has been a magical ride ever since."

With the middle of February scheduled as the beginning of the breeding season preparations were underway to ensure Fiber Sonde continues his immense popularity. According to John, the stud fee will remain at $1,000.

John: "I like to set reasonable stud fees for all of our stallions. It is our goal, regardless of how sought-after an individual is, to reward loyalty and inspire people to breed and race locally. Having a horse successfully compete outside the state does little to help the farm's bottom line."

Cyndy then proudly disclosed an accolade that the West Virginia Breeders Classics recently conferred on Fiber Sonde.

"It's long been discussed that an honor should be bestowed upon the sire that accomplishes the most on our West Virginia Breeders Classics program. So board member Dennis Bybee and president of the Breeders Classics Carol Holden made their idea a reality. As the sire of five winners on Breeders night Fiber Sonde deservedly became the initial recipient."

I decided to put the couple on the proverbial hot seat and ask the burning question, "Who is your all-time favorite Fiber Sonde offspring?" There was one minute of dead silence when Cyndy turned to her husband and said, "Aye a Song!"

John leaned forward to glance out the tackroom door, a quizzical look on his face. The horse occupying the first stall happened to be Bridging the Gap, however he sagely confirmed Cyndy's choice.

In six career starts at Charles Town, Aye a Song, out of Aye Robbin (by Robb), won five races and was beaten a neck in the Tri-State Futurity by Bullets Fever (eight wins in eight starts). She accounted for the Rachel's Turn, West Virginia Nutrition Breeders Classics, West Virginia Futurity and Eleanor Casey Memorial. Cyndy then explained how Aye a Song is literally a time capsule of Beau Ridge Farm pedigrees.

"I guess we should start with Traveling Treat. A hard-knocker, we bought her from a trainer in Maryland and after a respectable racing career she entered our broodmare band. In the late 90s she produced a foal named Aye Jacoby and that daughter of Aye's Turn went on to capture multiple stakes. Aye Jacoby was eventually bred to Robb, producing Aye Robbin. A very consistent runner, she is the dam of West Virginia sprint champion Penguin Power [Fiber Sonde] and our darling Aye a Song. This is truly a family affair."

In summary, what makes a great stallion?

a) Good conformation?

b) Docile disposition?

c) Noble bloodlines?

d) All of the above?

The combination of the criteria above easily defines Fiber Sonde. With acknowledged Mid-Atlantic empowerment and a tightly managed stud career in place, we must wait to see how lasting Fiber Sonde's influence will be.

For now, no one can dispute his Most Valuable status.

The best seat in the house

Longtime race-caller, turf official Will O'Keefe 'has seen it all' in more than 40 years in the stand

By Betsy Burke Parker

Horses and jockeys come and go on the steeplechase circuit, but for more than four decades, one thing has remained the same: for the 42nd year this spring, Virginia horseman Will O'Keefe will be the elevated "eyes" to provide play-by-play as race-caller at all of the state's jump meets.

O'Keefe's well-informed and dramatically delivered stride-by-stride summary of the action is the signature of Virginia's jump schedule. In 2019 – before racing was derailed by COVID – O'Keefe called some 20 meets. He announced all the Virginia point-to-points and almost all the hunt meets, plus the Maryland Hunt Cup, Grand National and Pennsylvania Hunt Cup.

The lifetime total is impressive – he's called more than 5,000 races.

"I have a photographic memory, so I guess that helps a lot," O'Keefe says when asked the obvious – "How do you do it?" "I have the added bonus that I'm taking a lot of these entries myself (through the Central Entry Office he created 36 years ago), so I'm already 'seeing' the silks when someone calls to enter a horse, and I'm mentally seeing the horses and riders they're naming so I have a little headstart.

"I used to go to the paddock before every race to look at the horses, and equipment, and jockeys, and silks. I don't do that so much any more – after 40 years I've got it down pretty good."

After more than four decades counting on the same schedule, the same venues, many of the same participants and spectators, O'Keefe acknowledges that this year is likely to look different. Much of the spring schedule remains up in the air: Virginia point-to-point isn't even bothering to print a condition book. Race conditions

INNOVATOR – CENTRAL ENTRY OFFICE

Central Entry Office had a backdoor beginning. Before 1983, every hunt club took their own entries, painstakingly recording details, silks, bloodlines – everything – every week. NSA (then NSHA) information wasn't searchable by computers since personal computers were still in the future. The only way to verify past performance was by combing old annuals, and there was no record of point-to-point form at all except some in the weekly Chronicle of the Horse and Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred magazines.

Finally, "the secretary for Fairfax, Mario DeFrank, got so frustrated with every hunt having to take all this information, every week, he said we should get one person to keep all of it on file. I guess that 'one person' was me," O'Keefe explains.

It was straightforward, if labor intensive, at first, to streamline the process. O'Keefe used Chronicle archives to develop verifiable records back as far as 1970, but he made it so that the swelling database auto-updates. It is an easy-to-use platform for horsemen to find overnights and real-time details. The side benefit – checking and confirming unsanctioned race form, mirrors the well-regarded Irish p2p site.

will be listed online, O'Keefe says, "this allows (host hunts and hunt meets) to be more fluid."

How'd it happen?

O'Keefe backed into the announcer assignment – he was Casanova Hunt Point-to-Point race secretary in the late 1970s, and one of his jobs was to find a replacement when announcer Barney Brittle stepped down after the 1978 meet. He pressed his dad, veterinarian Dr. Frank O'Keefe, to help, son promising father he'd be on the old wooden stand at the Spring Hill Farm racecourse alongside him, helping identify horses, feeding him details on the runners and on the action as it unfolded.

"I realized after that first year, it'd be just as easy to do it myself," Will O'Keefe says. He took the microphone in 1980, and has added meets every year.

Having grown up going to racetracks on the east coast with his veterinarian father, the junior O'Keefe knew the finer points of a solid race call. "There's a certain rhythm to it," he explains the structure of his play-by-play. "I probably have a southern accent when I talk, but I don't think I do when I announce. You learn to project your voice."

"Will's known as 'the mouth of the south,' and for good reason," says recently retired Casanova huntsman Tommy Lee Jones. "When he started calling races, he really legitimized our point-to-point circuit. Used to be every hunt had their own announcer, usually some poor horse show announcer they'd begged to help out.

"I mean, they were doing their best, but the race calls weren't exactly Tom Durkin (NBC Sports racecaller since 1984.) Will had heard all the big racetrack (announcers), so he knew how it should sound, plus he worked hard to get it right. It moved us up."

Mike Hughes helped Dr. O'Keefe in 1979, then, as now, providing between-races details on results and upcoming action as well as commercial spots highlighting sponsors and vendors. "Mike actually has been at this longer, you could say," O'Keefe jokes.

Marshall Hawkins Photo

Will O'Keefe's father was the breeder of the 1966 Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner, Maryland-bred Kauai King. Virginia veterinarian Dr. Frank O'Keefe and his Pine Brook Farm had sent Kauai King's dam, Sweep in, to Sagamore Farm to be bred back to Globemaster when Kauai King was born. Read more in the May 2016 issue of Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred

After the pair hooked up officially at the 1980 Casanova meet, "before we knew it, we were doing 20 to 24 races a year," Hughes says.

They make an effective team, but there's a laughably simple reason why they divided the responsibilities.

"I talk fast," O'Keefe says. "Mike talks good.

"I could talk slower and never make a mistake and be boring. I think its better to keep people interested.

"I've seen some incredible races over the years, and it's been a great ride. Hard to beat it when you've got the best seat in the house."

As to how long he can keep it up, O'Keefe is circumspect, a realist. "I don't want this to sound like an obituary," he says. "But it's time to start grooming someone for the future."

THE
THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF THE MARYLAND HORSE BREEDERS ASSOCIATION

Hialeah Photo
Mrs. R. H. Heighe's good Maryland-bred winner of the Black Helen Handicap, ADROIT.

Vol. 11, No. 3
MARCH 1946

Anne Heighe's homebred mare Adroit was a cover girl after a successful trip to Hialeah to win the Black Helen Handicap in the winter of 1946.

75 years ago

■ Knockdown and Adroit were bright lights for Maryland's breeding program, with stakes wins in California and Florida, respectively.

Knockdown raced for Elizabeth Arden Graham, who purchased the son of Discovery for $2,000 from Alfred Vanderbilt's Sagamore yearling consignment at Meadow Brook (in New York). A "raw-boned, brown yearling" who had since grown "into a great, strapping colt" Knockdown was one of the best 3-year-olds in the country after a win in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby.

Anne Heighe's homebred Adroit won Hialeah's Black Helen Handicap in brilliant fashion. The 6-year-old mare was by *Aethelstan, who at age 24 was "hale and hearty" and standing at Heighe's Prospect Hill Farm in Bel Air.

■ The Maryland Horse editor Humphrey Finney took a road trip to Florida, and along the way visited training centers in South Carolina.

In a day and a half he went to Pinehurst, Camden, Columbia and Aiken. In Camden, Harry D. Kirkover explained to Finney that "loss of hotels had practically put the place out of business of late years." Kirkover owned 500 acres, on part of which was Springdale Race Course. It was hoped "sufficient horses can be found to make the running of the Carolina Cup" over the Springdale timber course. Also based in Camden was Kent Miller's Maryland-bred steeplechaser Elkridge "who is wintering well," plus a number of training outfits at Marion duPont Scott's private training track.

Aiken was base for Edward Christmas, in charge of William Brann's horses, including Gallorette, who never looked better. "Her coat is in wonderful bloom, the muscling standing out all over her ample frame."

Also seen in Aiken was Preston Burch, with a big string for Brookmeade and the Howe Stable; John Gaver with the powerful Greentree Stable; Oleg Dubassof, in charge of a "lovely 2-year-old filly" for breeder J.F. Flanagan; and Boyd Littrell, handling Count Speed for John Hertz. "One could spend a month at Aiken," wrote Finney, "and still not see all one wanted to."

■ Virginia-bred Quality Road led the list of money-earners in the region with $1.26 million in 2010, and was one of nine stakes winners that year bred by Edward P. "Ned" Evans, who died Dec. 31 at age 68. Evans bred more than 100 stakes winners, including Breeders' Cup Classic-G1 winner and Horse of the Year Saint Liam (a Kentucky-bred). For four decades top-quality runners were produced at Evans' Spring Hill Farm in Casanova, Va. He ranked among the top 10 breeders in North America for more than a decade and was the TOBA National Breeder of the Year in 2009.

■ Legendary Maryland breeder Robert E. Meyerhoff achieved the rarest of all feats in the Thoroughbred business—breeding and racing a top runner in Broad Brush, and developing him into a leading sire. At age 87, the breeder of 49 stakes winners in his own name and that of Fitzhugh LLC (13.1 percent of his starters) recalled his decades in the business and various aspects of racing. He still owned 50 horses and was the breeder of millionaire Grade 1 winner Richard's Kid (out of stakes-winning Broad Brush mare Tough Broad), named Maryland-bred Horse of the Year for a second consecutive year in 2010.

BARRIE B. REIGHTLER

The industry lost a giant when Edward P. "Ned" Evans, who created a legacy at his Spring Hill Farm in Virginia, died at the end of 2010.

■ Larry Johnson's journey as a breeder began with a $2,400 filly named Ran's Chick who never got to the races. From there it was only up, as the man who was once denied stalls at Bowie bred mares to the nation's prized stallions, won Grade 1 races, earned an invitation to Dubai, and routinely sold six-figure yearlings.

Owner of Legacy Farm in Bluemont, Va., Johnson chose to stand his homebred graded stakes winner Street Magician at Northview Stallion Station for his first season in 2011.

A great-grandson of Ran's Chick, Street Magician is the sire of 2020 Maryland-bred champion 2-year-old filly Street Lute.

50 years ago

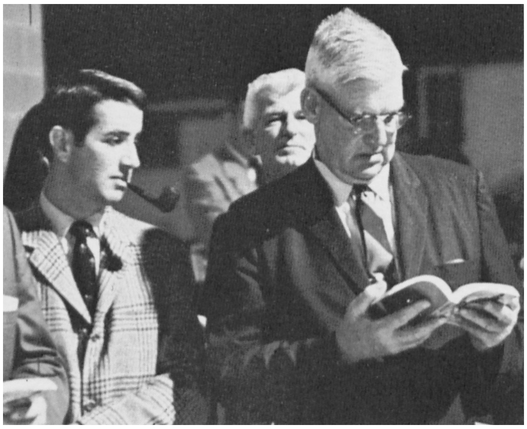
■ In his first couple months as a trainer, Charles T. Jones had seven wins from 15 starts, two of them stakes with the 4-year-old filly Daring Step. The daughter of Prince Dare won five straight, including Liberty Bell's Tuscarora and Bowie's Conniver handicaps.

Formerly in the show horse world, Jones took over training duties of the filly when her regular trainer, Eddie McMullen, had been seriously injured breaking yearlings. Jones' father-in-law Morris Stoltzfus, who raced as Greystone Manor Stable, purchased Maryland-bred Daring Step as an unraced 2-year-old for $12,000.

"I know she's not the greatest horse in the world," said Jones. "But to me she's the greatest."

Daring Step was remarkable in other ways as she is also the granddam of champion Eliza and Grade 1 winner Dinard. Her descendants include Grade 1 winner and top sire Dialed In.

■ Edgar Lucas expanded his Thoroughbred operation by bringing in two stallions from Virginia, Irish Sweeps Derby winner Tambourine and stakes winner Laugh Aloud, to stand at his Helmore Farm in Woodbine, Md. Asked why after more than a dozen years as a small breeder and owner he decided to go commercial, Lucas answered: "Because the fun of it is raising horses. And I believe that a well-run operation can be profitable."



PETER WINANTS

Farm manager John Williams and his boss Edgar Lucas (right) evaluate yearlings in the walking ring at Timonium.

Lucas also owned the Brooklandville, Md., farm by the same name, his home since the mid-1930s. His breeding stock were stabled at the Woodbine farm while the home farm was used for weanlings and yearlings. John Williams was his farm manager.

■ Maryland-based Northern Dancer led the world's sire rankings as his progeny earnings surpassed Hail to Reason and Bold Ruler, ranked one-two by North American earnings. Northern Dancer's European-based son Nijinsky II boosted the total and was one of two 1970 Horses of the Year for the Windfields Farm stallion. The other was the filly Fanfreluche in Canada.

■ Writer and photographer Peter Winants profiled two fascinating subjects—artist Franklin B. Voss and famed Maryland steeplechaser Billy Barton.

"No American artist has ever matched the remarkable ability of the late Frankin B. Voss in painting foxhunting scenes. And, in all probability, there has never been an American painter who gave more of his life and time to the sport." Voss died at age 72 while hunting with Elkridge-Harford in 1953, falling to the ground for no apparent reason and dying before anyone could assist.

Owned by Howard Bruce, MFH of the Elkridge Hounds, Billy Barton was a timber champion, contested the Aintree Grand National, appeared on the cover of Time magazine, and lived to 32. A challenge trophy named in his honor was being offered for the first time by the Bruce family to the best performer at the Howard County and Elkridge-Harford point-to-points.

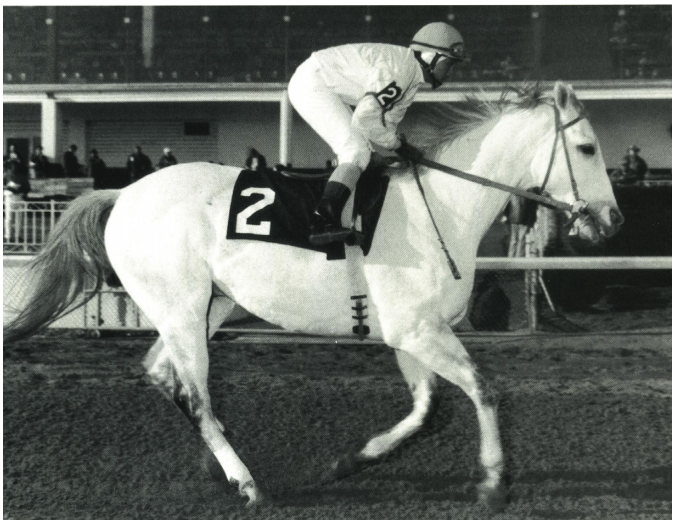
■ It seemed that change was on the horizon for Maryland racing as House Bill 1380, legislation aimed to provide coin-operated slot machines at the state's mile Thoroughbred tracks (Laurel and Pimlico) and the Standardbred track Rosecroft Raceway, was introduced into the Maryland legislature in late February.

A revision of the original bill, the newly proposed legislation would allow up to 3,000 machines at each track, with the flexibility to move them on demand, and a total of 6,500 slot machines at three off-track locations which would serve as simulcast wagering outlets as well.

It was just one of many early attempts to get slots in the state. It wasn't until September 2010 that the first casino opened in Perryville.



DOUBLE J

Doctor Ichabod was a fan favorite after a long career at Maryland tracks.

■ After 10 seasons on the track, Maryland-based Doctor Ichabod—"The People's Champ"—was retired, with the occasion celebrated in Laurel Park's winner's circle. Owned by Fred Greene Jr., the 11-year-old nearly white gelding was to go to the Virginia farm of Ray Burnette to join Burnette's granddaughter Stacy Jones' string of show horses. Doctor Ichabod had a record of 22-26-16 and earnings of $272,838, with all but one of his 115 starts at Laurel or Pimlico.

■ The Mid-Atlantic produced 198 stakes winners in 1995, with Maryland leading the way with 99, followed by Pennsylvania (32), Virginia (27), New Jersey (24), West Virginia (13), North Carolina (2) and South Carolina (1). Thirty-six were graded winners. Two runners amassed more than $1 million during the year—Maryland-breds Cigar and Awad.

■ Burt Bacharach's West Virginia-bred Afternoon Deelites made the ultimate comeback after suffering a tendon injury in the 1995 Kentucky Derby-G1, returning to win the Malibu Stakes that December at Santa Anita, the second Grade 1 of his career.

Mid-Atlantic 2020 Statistical Review

— The Numbers Game —

There are two main camps when it comes to statistics. One believes they are valuable tools when trying to compare or evaluate performances. The other embraces the phrase "Lies, damned lies and statistics" that means numbers bolster weak arguments or prove points that may not be totally accurate in the big picture.

Regardless of where you sit, statistics in the sports world are vital. In Thoroughbred breeding, not only can they be used to quantify quality or show trends, they can be quite enlightening.

For more than 25 years, Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred has provided a bounty of statistics for readers to pour over. Each year, this edition includes an alphabetical listing of state-bred stakes winners, breeding statistics from The Jockey Club on the number of mares bred by local stallions, the number of stakes horses by local stallions, and more.

Want to see a list of West Virginia-bred millionaires? Turn to page 149. Or find Pennsylvania's leading sire by total number of stakes winners for the year? See page 131. How many mares were bred to Maryland stallions the past 15 years? Go to page 110. Who was the leading earner among Virginia-breds last season? Page 141. How many New Jersey-bred stakes winners per year since 2006? Kindly turn to page 118.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred uses a variety of sources to compile this trove. Each state's breeders' association provides background on its organization and its programs, and when available, statistics on the individual state fund program.

The Jockey Club annually supplies breeding statistics for each state. Found in the shaded boxes throughout the state's statistical section are charts showing numbers of mares bred, foals born in the state, total earnings by state-bred runners, along with a running history of those numbers.

The Jockey Club has similar information available in its State Fact Books section on its website. But Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred provides numbers going back for more than a decade. The Jockey Club also provides an annual Report of Mares Bred/Live Foal Report for all stallions in its database on a state-by-state basis.

Mid-Atlantic-bred stakes horses are highlighted, and stakes winners have brief bios, which include a pedigree line, the breeder, plus the owner and trainer at the time the runner last won a stakes, in addition to a listing of all the stakes performances for the year.

Leading state-bred runners for the year–by earnings and wins–are found within these pages, as is an alphabetical listing of the breeders of state-bred stakes winners.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred utilizes The Jockey Club Information System's database for state-bred runners lists and stallion progeny figures. TJCIS includes all statistic information from the Northern and Southern Hemispheres, the most comprehensive numbers available. Thus TJCIS's lists of leading earners produced for each state takes into account horses who never started in the U.S. or Europe.

And stallions with runners in Southern Hemisphere countries have those figures added to year-end totals (including newly-turned 2-year-olds in South America, Australia and New Zealand who are just launching their careers in November and December).

Statistics in these pages can be used as the reader sees fit. Follow breeding trends, recap a runner's season, find out how much a state breeders' fund paid out, get the track record for a stallion.

If Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred helps you settle an argument with a statistical non-believer, you're welcome. With the rise of the electronic age, more information can be found on the internet. But these pages give a comprehensive overview of the previous season, in one spot. Pick it up, turn to a page, explore, get lost in the numbers.

If nothing else, realize that the annual statistical section proves one thing–there is a rich and bountiful industry in this region that should never be overlooked.

And now you've got the numbers to prove it.

Delaware Certified Thoroughbred Program celebrates participants in September

The 28th annual Owners' Day at Delaware Park on Sept. 26 looked a bit different compared to other years because of Covid-19 precautions, and rain made the track a sloppy mess, but the presentations of 2019 awards and the running of four $100,000 stakes for horses eligible for the Delaware Certified Thoroughbred Program were once again the highlights.

Kicking off the DCTP stakes action was the 6-furlong Tax Free Shopping Distaff. It was no contest as Michael R. Cox's homebred Include filly Madam Meena scored emphatically by 8¾ lengths in her stakes debut. The race for runners 3 and up had a field of eight, all 3-year-olds. Pink Caddy, winner of the previous year's Small Wonder Stakes, was the favorite, but there was no catching the Jamie Ness-trained second-choice Madam Meena, who led at every call.

The Small Wonder for 2-year-old fillies saw the stakes debut for the remarkable Street Lute, who also loved the slop and flew home a 5-length winner while defeating nine others going 5½ furlongs. The Street Magician filly owned by Lucky 7 Stables and trained by John Robb broke her maiden first-time out at Delaware Park less than three weeks earlier and would finish the year with four stakes wins from six starts.

The First State Dash Stakes for 2-year-olds at 6 furlongs was won by the imposing Singlino, another gate-to-wire winner. It was his second win in a row going 5½ furlongs at Delaware Park, and owner/trainer John Worsley had the 17-plus hand youngster primed for his stakes debut as he strolled home clear by 2 lengths over nine others.

The New Castle Stakes for older runners resulted in a disqualification as Whereshetoldmetogo grabbed the lead heading into the far turn but lugged in down the stretch before drawing off. Threes Over Deuces took the worst of Whereshetoldmetogo's eratic behaviour and was elevated from second to first. Owned by Pocket 3's Racing LLC and trained by Gary Capuano, Threes Over Deuces had finished second in the previous year's 6-furlong New Castle and earned his first official stakes victory in the 2020 renewal.

Awards presented for 2019

The Delaware Certified program also presented their annual awards throughout the day. A trophy was awarded to the certifier of the horse with the highest Delaware Certified earnings at Delaware Park for the 2019 race meet. Here are the results of the individual categories:

MARYLAND HORSE
BREEDERS ASSOCIATION
Since 1929

Maryland Horse Breeders Association

The Maryland Horse Breeders Association (MHBA) has been the leading horse industry advocate in the state since its founding in 1929. It functions as an informational resource for horse breeders and owners, for the media, for national, community and governmental organizations and for the general public.

As a service organization, the MHBA provides industry information, educational opportunities and legislative representation to its membership, who include breeders, owners, trainers and horse enthusiasts of all kinds. The MHBA publishes a weekly e-mail bulletin and a monthly newsletter, Maryland Horse, as well as Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred magazine.

In addition, the MHBA maintains several websites: Maryland Thoroughbred.com, a resource for news and information on Maryland breeding and racing; MidAtlanticTB.com, which carries regional news, information on the magazine, and access to the digital edition of Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred; marylandmillion.com for news and events about Maryland's Day at the Races; and mdthoroughbredhalloffame.com which showcases full biographies of the Maryland-bred Hall of Fame horses.

The MHBA helped innovate, and now administers, several state-oriented incentive programs. Both the Maryland-Bred Race Fund, created by statute in 1962 for Thoroughbreds foaled in Maryland, and the Maryland Million, chartered in 1985 for Thoroughbreds conceived in Maryland, were the first programs of their kind anywhere in the U.S. ✷

The Maryland Fund: Maryland-bred awards

The Maryland Fund was created by the General Assembly in 1962. Maryland was the first state to develop a legislated incentive program to encourage the improvement of Thoroughbred breeding and racing.

In Maryland, there are six categories through which monies for Maryland-breds are made available: 1) purse money for races for registered Maryland-breds; 2) awards for owners of registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; 3) awards for breeders of registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; 4) awards for stallions who sire registered Maryland-breds finishing first, second or third; and 5) bonus awards for the highest-earning 2 and 3-year-olds shown at the annual MHBA yearling show and 6) an allocation for purses/bonuses for Maryland-sired horses.

Currently, the Maryland Fund receives slightly less than 1 percent of the total mutuel handle and breakage from Laurel and Pimlico (the state's two major tracks), and receives approximately 1.5 percent of the mutuel handle and 5.0 percent of the breakage at Timonium (the state's only minor track).

Owner awards are paid by the purse account to the owners of all registered Maryland-breds when they finish first, second or third in any race other than stakes, paid at 30 percent of the horse's share of the purse.

Breeder and stallion awards are paid for the registered Maryland-bred who finishes first, second or third in any race in Maryland. Breeder awards are 30 percent of a horse's share of the purse; stallion awards are 10 percent. In stakes races the award is based on the first $100,000 of the gross purse.

In order to earn a breeder award, the horse must be registered as a Maryland-bred. In order to earn a stallion award, the horse must be registered as a Maryland-bred, and the sire must be registered with the MHBA, in addition to having been standing in Maryland at the time the horse was conceived.

The Maryland Fund program is administered by the Maryland Racing Commission with the assistance and advice of the Maryland Fund Advisory Committee chaired by David Hayden, a member of the Maryland Racing Commission. Under the direction of the commission, the actual implementation of the fund, including maintaining the Maryland-bred registry and computing and distributing all bonus awards, is performed by the MHBA.

Breeder and stallion award percentages are evaluated on a bi-annual basis on the advice of the Maryland Fund Advisory Committee. Owner award percentages are determined by a separate agreement. (For Maryland Million day, breeder and stallion award percentages are determined annually.) Awards are paid as soon as practical.

The stakes program is planned on a meet by meet basis and is based on projected track handles for the coming year. ✷

Final totals shown are subject to change following annual audit. Awards net to recipients after MHBA service charges were deducted. Not listed in chart is the allocation to the MHBA's yearling show—$20,000 through 1990; $25,000 from 1991 through 1999; $40,000 from 2000 through 2020. The owner award program was created in 1982 and began with the Pimlico program of March 13. It replaced a program of restricted Maryland-bred races which was begun in 1962. Commencing with Pimlico's 1986 summer meet, a percentage of Fund monies have been allocated to purses for Maryland Million Day. Breeder and stallion bonuses are paid as soon as practical, with the exact percentages for bonus calculations being evaluated bi-annually by the Maryland Racing Commission (Maryland Million Day is calculated separately). Starting in February 2015, owner awards were paid by the purse account. †Figures for 2020 are complete through October 31, 2020.*

Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey

The Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey is an organization dedicated to fostering and promoting the breeding and ownership of Thoroughbred horses in the state of New Jersey. Active since 1945, the association's primary role is to administer a New Jersey-bred incentive program for breeders, stallion owners and racehorse owners.

Benefits to members include a subscription to Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred, discounted member rates for foal registrations, access to online pedigree reports and manufacturer's discounts for farm equipment through NTRA Advantage and Equine Equipment.

The association also maintains a close alliance with the New Jersey Racing Commission, the New Jersey Department of Agriculture and the Equine Advisory Board, as well as the New Jersey Horse Council. ✷

New Jersey Breeders' Program

Requirements for eligibility to the New Jersey Breeders' Program:

(a) In order to be eligible to enter and start in races exclusively for New Jersey bred foals, each New Jersey bred foal must be registered with the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association of New Jersey (TBANJ).

(b) To qualify for such registration, the said horse must have been foaled in the State of New Jersey by a resident New Jersey mare or a non-resident New Jersey mare.

(c) A resident New Jersey mare is a mare that resides in New Jersey continuously from Nov. 1 of the year prior to the foaling through the date of foaling. A mare purchased at public auction subsequent to Oct. 17 of the year prior to foaling, is considered a resident New Jersey mare provided that she commences residence in New Jersey within two weeks of her purchase and continuously resides in New Jersey through the date of foaling. For the purpose of this paragraph, public auction is defined as an auction generally regarded as a public auction in the Thoroughbred horse industry and recognized as same by the TBANJ.

2. A non-resident New Jersey mare is a mare that has not returned to New Jersey by Nov. 1 of the year prior to foaling. The resulting foal can still be registered as a New Jersey-bred provided the mare is bred to a registered New Jersey stallion the season of the birth of said foal and remain in New Jersey for a continuous period of 90 days after foaling.

3. A "New Jersey stallion" is a stallion resident and standing in the State of New Jersey the full breeding season, commonly understood to be the period from Feb. 1 through July 1 of the subject year. If a stallion is brought into New Jersey subsequent to the start of the breeding season, he may be approved as a "New Jersey stallion" by the New Jersey Racing Commission upon recommendation of the Board of Trustees of the TBANJ provided that he stands and is a resident in New Jersey for the remainder of the breeding season. For those stallions brought into New Jersey subsequent to the commencement of the breeding season, approval by the TBANJ as a "New Jersey stallion" is only for the period from the date of approval through the end of the breeding season. All "New Jersey stallions" must be registered with the TBANJ and all appropriate fees paid prior to Feb. 1 of the breeding season or, in the case of a stallion entering the State subsequent to the start of the breeding season, prior to serving the first mare. Failure to meet the above criteria solely by reason of death of the stallion does not disqualify said stallion as a "New Jersey stallion."

Breeders qualify for awards when the owner of a mare registers the foal with the TBANJ. The breeder will receive a percentage based on what that foal earns when finishing first through third at a New Jersey track in both open and restricted New Jersey-bred races.

In any calendar year in which there is a surplus of funds, the surplus may be used to provide awards to breeders of registered New Jersey-bred horses who earn portions of purses in races at an out-of-state racetrack held at least 30 days before the start of the first Thoroughbred meet of the calendar year of more than 10 days duration at a racetrack in New Jersey or at least 30 days following the conclusion of the last Thoroughbred meet of the calendar year of more than 10 days duration at a racetrack in New Jersey.

Award percentages for breeders – 35 percent* is paid if the foal is by a registered New Jersey stallion; 25 percent* if the foal is by a stallion standing in a state other than New Jersey.

In order for stallion owners to qualify for awards, the owner must register the stallion annually with the TBANJ. Stallion owners will receive an award equal to 10 percent* of what all foals by said stallion earn when finishing first through third at a New Jersey track in both open and restricted New Jersey-bred races.

Owners of New Jersey-bred horses will receive an award equal to 10 percent* when their New Jersey-bred horse finishes first through third at a New Jersey track in open races. ✷

There is a $5,000 maximum for first and $3,000 for second and third on each award in each race. Total awards are based on funds generated annually.*

PENNSYLVANIA HORSE BREEDERS ASSOCIATION

Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA), a not-for-profit organization founded in 1948, has as its main priority protection of Pennsylvania's Thoroughbred breeding and racing industries. These industries are important agricultural institutions that play significant roles in the state's economy, generating tremendous tax revenues for the state and making substantial contributions to the state's economy in general, while helping to sustain Pennsylvania's rural character.

Working with other industry leaders over the years, PHBA has attained several goals that have had far-reaching benefits. One such goal was the establishment of the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund, which became a reality in 1974. The fund program, administered by PHBA, has evolved into one of the country's most lucrative incentive programs. ✷

Pennsylvania Breeding Fund

Pennsylvania's Breeding Fund program distributes more money, on a per foal basis, than nearly every other state-bred program now in operation. Established in 1974, the Pennsylvania Breeding Fund has grown from a disbursement of $65,000 in its initial year of operation to an average of $28 million in the last nine years.

Thoroughbred breeding and racing is a high-risk enterprise, but for breeders of PA-Breds, owners of stallions standing in this state, and owners of PA-Breds racing at PARX Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs, the added rewards can be one factor that makes for a winning stable.

The Pennsylvania Breeding Fund is financed by a percentage of the state's racing fund, after expenses, and slot revenues. It provides for individual award payments (breeder and stallion awards), overnight races for PA-Breds, purse bonus supplements, PA-Bred stakes races, and reimbursement of expenses incurred by the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA) in its role as program administrator.

While benefitting owners and breeders with its incentive awards, the Fund serves a wider purpose, helping to support live racing at PARX Racing, Penn National and Presque Isle Downs. By making it worthwhile for owners to race PA-Breds in their native state, the Breeding Fund program channels a steady supply of competitive runners to the Pennsylvania tracks, and makes it less likely that our homegrown product will be lured to competing race tracks within the region.

Pennsylvania's breeding and racing industry contributes approximately $1.6 billion annually to the state's economy, so it is clear that the state has a vested interest in supporting these activities.

By law, PHBA is responsible for administering the Breeding Fund program for the State Horse Racing Commission, and maintaining an up-to-date registry of PA-Breds and Pennsylvania stallions.

A Thoroughbred foal born in the state of Pennsylvania and registered as such with The Jockey Club is eligible for Pennsylvania-bred registration with the PHBA if one of the following conditions is met:

1) The dam of the foal resided continuously in Pennsylvania since Dec. 1 of the year of conception through foaling. Mares not being bred back will fall under this category.
2) The dam of the foal was purchased at a public sale after Dec. 1 of the year of conception and brought into Pennsylvania within 14 days of the date of purchase (60 days if outside the U.S.) and remained continuously through foaling. During the year of foaling, the foal or its dam spent at least ninety (90) days in the state. Private transactions are not eligible for domicile waiver.
3) The dam of the foal arrived after Dec. 1 of the year of conception, foaled in Pennsylvania and was bred back to a registered PA stallion standing in Pennsylvania and the dam of the foal resided sixty (60) consecutive days during which foaling occurred.

There are two distinctions when registering a PA-Bred foal: those sired by registered Pennsylvania stallions and those sired by non-registered stallions.

PA-Breds have preferred starter status within the conditions in most non-restricted overnight races. The preference is claimed by trainers at the time of entry.

RACING INCENTIVES

- Owner bonus of up to 40 percent of purse earned for first, second and third-place finishes on all unrestricted overnight races.
- More than 400 restricted races and 23 restricted stakes offered each year. PA-Sired horses run for 25 percent additional in all PA-Bred stakes races, unless the stakes is for PA-Sired PA-Breds.

BREEDING INCENTIVES

- Breeder awards of 50 percent for first, second and third-place purses earned for registered PA-Sired PA-Breds for all PA maiden classes (40 percent in all other PA races); 25 percent for first, second and third-place purses earned for registered non-PA-Sired PA-Breds for all PA maiden classes (20 percent for all other PA races).
- Stallion awards of 10 percent paid to the owner of a registered Pennsylvania stallion for purses earned by registered Pennsylvania-Breds in all races at Pennsylvania tracks. ✷

South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association

The mission of the South Carolina Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association (SCTOBA) is to promote the Thoroughbred horse industry in the state and throughout the region.

The SCTOBA works to create awareness of the tremendous economic impact the Thoroughbred horse industry has in the state. The organization is a blend of members who have interest in the various aspects of the Thoroughbred business–breeding, training and racing.

The organization reaches out to partner with sister organizations such as the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation of South Carolina and other regional state associations. In doing so, the SCTOBA looks to provide leadership and solutions to the challenges presented by the Thoroughbred business.

Our farms and training centers represent our state across the country with graduates continuously winning stakes events.

Virginia Thoroughbred Association

The Virginia Thoroughbred Association (VTA) was organized in 1942 to cultivate further development of the Commonwealth's heritage as a producer of quality Thoroughbred horses.

With the passage of parimutuel racing legislation, the VTA has vastly expanded the scope of its operations, both to assist in developing rules under which a parimutuel breeders' fund is administered by the Virginia Racing Commission, and to address the opportunities racing holds forth to strengthen and enhance Virginia's standing as one of the world's important centers for Thoroughbred nurseries.

Above all, the VTA is a service organization whose main goal is to assist members in achieving success with Thoroughbreds. ✷

Virginia Breeders' Fund

Rules for registering with the Virginia Breeders' Fund:

A Virginia-bred horse is a Thoroughbred horse registered by The Jockey Club, foaled in Virginia and registered with the Virginia Thoroughbred Association. A breeders award is earned when a registered Virginia-bred wins a race at a sanctioned meet in North America. Virginia-breds are eligible for Virginia restricted races.

A Virginia-sired horse is a horse registered with the Jockey Club, conceived in Virginia, foaled outside of Virginia and sired by a stallion registered with the Virginia Thoroughbred Association (VTA). Breeders of Virginia-sired horses are not eligible for Virginia Breeders' awards. Virginia-sired horses are eligible for all Virginia restricted races.

Virginia-bred or Virginia-sired foal registration:

Foals of 2021 are eligible for registration with the Virginia Breeders' Fund. A 2021 foal born in Virginia can be registered as a Virginia-bred by Dec. 31, 2021, for $25 (VTA member fee) or $125 (non-member fee). If the foal is not registered by Dec. 31 of its foaling year, it can be registered as a yearling for $50 (VTA member fee) or $150 (non-member fee) or as a 2-year-old or older at a fee of $200 (VTA member fee) or $300 (non-member fee).

Foals dropped outside of Virginia but sired by a Virginia registered stallion may be registered as a Virginia-sired foal. The fee to register a Virginia-sired horse is $25 (VTA member fee) or $125 (non-member fee).

Stallion registration:

Virginia stallions must register with the Virginia Thoroughbred Association annually by Dec. 31. The annual registration makes a Virginia stallion owner eligible to receive stallion awards based on the performance of the resulting foal crop from the breeding season in which the stallion is registered (for example Virginia stallions registered in 2021 are eligible for awards based on the performance of their 2022 foal crop). The fee to register a stallion is $100 (VTA member fee) or $200 (non-member fee).

Fund distribution:

The Virginia Breeders' Fund is generated by 1 percent of every dollar wagered on live racing, OTBs and ADW in Virginia. Each year the Virginia Racing Commission approves how the money in the fund is allocated.

A large portion of the fund ($950,000 for 2020) is set aside for payments to breeders of registered Virginia-breds that win races at any race track in North America. There is a $25,000 cap on any single award. In 2020 Breeders' awards averaged 40% of each winning purse.

A smaller portion ($50,000 for 2020) is set aside for payments to owners of registered Virginia stallions whose offspring win at any racetrack in North America.

Monies are also set aside to supplement purses for races restricted to registered Virginia-bred or Virginia-sired horses. ✷

2020 Virginia-certified Owners' Bonus Awards

In 2017 the Virginia Equine Alliance (VEA) started a new owner's bonus program that rewards owners of Virginia-certified horses that win races at Mid-Atlantic region racetracks. The program adds a 25 percent bonus to the winning purse of any Virginia-certified horse that wins a race in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia. The program also applies to Virginia-certified horses that win races at National Steeplechase Association sanctioned meets in the Mid-Atlantic region. Wins in Virginia restricted races are not eligible for owners bonuses. There is a $10,000 cap on any single award.

A Virginia-certified horse is a horse registered by The Jockey Club, conceived and foaled outside of Virginia but that maintains residency in Virginia for at least a six (6)-month consecutive period prior to Dec. 31 of its 2-year-old year. The horse must maintain residency at a listed Virginia facility, where the horse can be available for inspection by a VACTP official.

2020 Virginia-bred or Virginia-sired Owners' Bonus Awards

In 2016 the VHBPA and the VTA implemented a new owners bonus program that awards owners of registered Virginia-bred and Virginia-sired horses that win at Mid-Atlantic region racetracks. The owner of a registered Virginia-bred or sired horse earns 25 percent more for a win at a Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania or Virginia track. The 25 percent Virginia-bred or sired owner's bonus is also earned for wins at National Steeplechase Association sanctioned meets in the Mid-Atlantic region. There is a $10,000 cap on any single award. Wins in Virginia-bred or sired restricted races are not eligible for owner's bonuses.

West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association

The West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association promotes the Thoroughbred breeding and racing industries in West Virginia through the financial incentives of breeders' awards programs.

The WVTBA sponsors races and activities throughout the year. An annual West Virginia-bred and/or sired horse show offers classes with cash awards and trophies. Additional activities include seminars and an annual awards dinner in late February/early March. The WVTBA is part of the West Virginia Fest in June in Charles Town, and hosts an annual meeting in November.

In 1968, when the West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders Association was started, the West Virginia foal crop numbered less than 70. The numbers didn't increase much above 100 until the Development Fund was begun in 1984. Now several hundred West Virginia-bred and/or sired foals are born each year.

Please contact the WVTBA for registration rules and fees.

Membership dues are $100 per year. If paid by June 30, members receive reduced registration rates for West Virginia-bred and/or sired horses. Please see the WVTBA website for other benefits and check out our Facebook page for news.

Call or write the WVTBA for information on how you may participate and benefit from our outstanding program. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday.

IT PAYS TO HAVE A WEST VIRGINIA-BRED AND/OR -SIRED HORSE!

- The West Virginia Breeders Classics pays out almost $1 million in purses for WV-bred and/or -sired horses. It is held annually on the 2nd Saturday in October.
- $800,000 in purses are allocated for up to sixteen WV accredited stakes races during the year.
- Supplemental Purse Awards of up to 10% of the winner's share of the purse to the owner, breeder, and/or sire owner of the accredited WV-bred and/or -sired winner.

2020 Auction Statistics for Mid-Atlantic Horses

Thoroughbred sales weathered plenty in 2020, as the coronavirus pandemic postponed, canceled and combined sales and the market adjusted to economic uncertainties. Nevertheless, the region's breeders, consignors and buyers marched on and showcased plenty of success stories.

New internet sales company Wanamaker's made a splash when it sold Maryland-bred Fiya for $400,000. Bred and campaigned by Ann Merryman through two Laurel Park wins in four starts, the now 4-year-old was purchased by Rob Masiello in July and sent to New York trainer Tom Albertrani. Fiya, a son of Friesan Fire and the Two Punch mare Sista, won three in a row for his new connections—a Belmont Park allowance in September, the Maryland Million Turf Sprint at Laurel in October and the Canterbury Stakes on Gulfstream Park's Claiming Crown Day in December.

A Virginia-bred Uncle Mo colt out of the Mineshaft mare Miss Ocean City led all regionally bred sales 2-year-olds at $1.1 million, lighting up the board at Fasig-Tipton Midlantic's rescheduled sale in late June. The colt, bred by Ann Backer and consigned by Pike Racing, went to trainer Bob Baffert for owner Michael Lund Petersen on a bid by Donato Lanni. Foaled, raised and prepped as a yearling at Backer's Smitten Farm in The Plains, the colt failed to meet his reserve at Fasig-Tipton's Saratoga sale as a yearling in 2019 but was purchased privately at the sale by Al Pike.

The leader had yet to start (through Feb. 17), but just one of the top six 2-year-olds to sell in 2020 had. Success came further down the list in the form of Jaxon Traveler, a $140,000 purchase who won all three starts in 2020 for West Point Thoroughbreds and Marvin Delfiner. Bred by Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Pineau, the son of Munnings and the After Market mare Listen Boy was named Maryland-bred champion juvenile male. Maryland-bred and Maryland-sired daughter of Bourbon Courage Maxine's Tap Room ($135,000) posted a win and a third in the Maryland Juvenile Filly Championship in two starts for owner William Sparks and trainer Ron Moquett. Return the Ring, bred in Maryland by Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGinnes, cost $130,000 and opened with a November maiden win at Aqueduct and was second in the Jimmy Winkfield Stakes to open his 3-year-old season.

Three Mid-Atlantic-bred broodmares topped $1 million on the auction market as Miss Besilu (Virginia, $2.2 million, in foal to Into Mischief), Dancing Rags (Maryland, $1.1 million, in foal to Curlin) and Mirth (Pennsylvania, $1.05 million, in foal to Constitution) led the way for the region all at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky November mixed sale.

Three regional-bred yearlings reached $500,000 in 2020—led by a $510,000 Nyquist colt purchased by Mike Ryan at Fasig-Tipton's selected yearlings showcase in Kentucky in September. The Pennsylvania-bred is the first foal out of Perfect Note, whose dam Music Note was a Grade 1 winner and the producer of 2020 Grade 2 winner Mystic Guide. A Pennsylvania-bred Kingman (GB) filly out of Amber Romance (Ire) brought $500,000 on a bid by Ruis Racing at the same sale while another Nyquist colt—this one a Virginia-bred—went for $500,000 to Repole Stable and St. Elias Stable at Keeneland September.

While not quite producing the fireworks of the Kentucky-sired regional-breds, Mid-Atlantic sires found auction success as well. Three 2-year-olds reached $100,000—Bourbon Courage's daughter Maxine's Tap Rooom, Bandbox colt Dream Big Dreams and Mosler filly Response Time. On the yearling front, Divining Rod's first crop to reach the auction ring resulted in a $100,000 colt purchased by the sire's owner/breeder Lael Stable. Mosler, a Country Life Farm stallion like Divining Rod, produced a $65,000 average from his 2-year-olds.
